2 Referral Centers To Receive City Aid

S.S.F. Plans Help, But Asks Reports

South San Francisco Information and Referral Center representatives were informed Monday that they would receive an immediate $1,250 assist from the city.

But if they wish to get the rest of the $5,000 the city set aside for the center, they'll have to make frequent referrals on progress of their operations to the city manager.

Mrs. Catherine Smallwood, of the San Mateo office of the Economic Opportunity Commission, and Mrs. Eve Rendon, receptionist at the South San Francisco Center, attended the 4:30 p.m. pre-council session to press their case.

After outlining the proposal, Councilman Patrick Ahern asked, "Does that sound good to you?" Answered Mrs. Smallwood, who had indicated earlier she would like the $5,000 in a lump sum, "We have no choice."

And it would seem, as the discussion of their request got under way, the chances of obtaining money at this stage was remote, indeed.

Assistant City Manager Larry Ross, who originally had recommended approval, yesterday afternoon changed his original recommendation to "withhold payment until it is obvious the center complies with its original promises."

According to Ross's original (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

Daly City Agrees To Allocate $2500

By FRANK LAPIERRE

A new agreement is being drawn up by Daly City that would provide mutual funds in the amount of $2,500 for use by the Daly City Information and Referral Center.

This is the first year that the city would provide cash for use by the center. Last year, the city made office equipment available to the center in lieu of cash.

Under the terms of the proposed agreement, Daly City would hand over $2,500 this year — with several strings attached.

These "strings" would insure the center continues to provide service to local residents until June, 1970, and in performing this service agrees to provide information on the availability of educational community and social services from public agencies and various organizations.

The center is also expected to assist residents in obtaining information on the availability of community and social services from public and private agencies, along with aiding in the development of educational and employment opportunities for residents of Daly City.

A proposed budget of expenditures for the time period covered by the agreement must be submitted to the city before the money is forwarded, City Mgr. Dave Rowe explained.

Neither party involved has signed the agreement yet.

County Commission

Youths Encounter The Frustrations Of Decision

By JEREMY ROBINSON

What do the young people in San Mateo County want? "I'm 17," Westmoor High School student Jim Epосто said candidly, "and I'm not sure."

Epосто was speaking at a meeting of the San Mateo County Youth Commission Wednesday night. His bemusement seemed to reflect the feelings of 14 other students from five county high schools as to their role on the commission.

The Youth Commission was set up early this year by the County Board of Supervisors to "give the youth a voice in county government in San Mateo," according to Chairman Steve Feilner, of Half Moon Bay High School.

Members of the commission receive $5 in county funds for each meeting they attend, with meetings held twice a month. The purpose of the commission as roughly outlined by members only Wednesday night is to:

—Prevent future troubles (i.e. racial flare-ups, student strikes) at the high schools.

—Assist specific schools when they have problems.

—Provide counseling for troubled students.

—Break down the communications barrier between over-40 Supervisors and kids.

Of 15 members attending last night's meeting, there were no Blacks or Chicanos. And only five county high schools were represented.

"I don't think we know what we want, but I think we're being allowed to discuss what we want," Steve Woodard, a former high school representative on the commission and currently a student at CSM commented.

"If we don't know what we want, why are we being so violent in our demands," Pete Hoover of Westmoor asked.

Nobody answered Hoover's question. Members were told that the purpose of their being there was to "eliminate the frustration," and "to communicate with each other." They were also told that "You have the power to do something constructive, something can come out of this."

A tropical island? Yes. Maybe. A traffic island? No. Definitely not.

Businessmen along South San Francisco's South Airport Boulevard actually weren't asked if they liked the former.

But the negative response to the latter suggestion was the essence of a public hearing at Monday night's council session.

And the councilmen dutifully referred the matter to improvement and widening of South Airport Boulevard back to city staff for study.

The staff also is to contact the businessmen along the roadway in order to "resolve the matter to the satisfaction of all."

Councilman Warren Steinkamp became an island in the sea of humanity attending the council session when he said the recommendations was "a waste of time."

CLAIMS 'EDUCATIONAL HARDSHIPS'

Father Launches Bus Fight

By BOB PETERSON

If an irate Daly City father follows up on his promise to the Jefferson Elementary School District trustees, the attorney general may soon hear some busing woes.

Robert Kurtz, of 63 Mayfield Way is convinced late starting times due to bus scheduling is resulting in educational hardships for his children.

Kurtz, who has two children attending the Abraham Lincoln School, asked the board members at last Wednesday's meeting to take action to correct this affliction.

He wanted the trustees either to appropriate funds to put six buses back on the road, or else curtail all busing in the district.

"I will bring this (matter) to the attention of the attorney general for a ruling if this is not done," said Kurtz.

The busing situation was brought to the attention of the trustees at the last board meeting by Kurtz. The trustees, at that time instructed Supt. Frank Greenwood to find out whether there was, indeed, a hardship.

The consensus of Greenwood, his assistant Dr. Vinton Stratton, and the principals of the F.D. Roosevelt, Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy Schools was that no educational hardships existed.

"There was agreement, of course, that it was an inconvenience to the parents as well as members of the staff, but they did not feel that the children were suffering educationally," said Greenwood.

And due to the inconvenience, the principals requested that the administration attempt to rotate school schedules annually in order that no school would consistently be plagued by the inconvenience of late starting times.

Trustee Bill Schumacher said he, too, would like to get away from the 10:20 a.m. starting time that was bothering Kurtz.

"It becomes a question of where we place our importance," said Greenwood. "It would require changes in lunch and playground schedules. The only other alternative is to use our own buses. (The school now hires Greyhound buses and drivers). I can't do it in the present budget, and continue to meet increasing costs, salaries, etc."

"What test was used to arrive at the fact that a kid wasn't suffering educationally?" asked Kurtz.

Abraham Lincoln Principal Cliff Petersen answered that the decision was made by the classroom teachers.

"Out of respect to me, I should have received communication prior to this meeting, from Greenwood, on what his recommendation would be," said Kurtz in a continuing tirade.

Referring to suggestion of the principals to rotate school schedules annually, Kurtz said, "This is a discriminatory pattern, and a constitutional question."

"Have parents been polled, or a public hearing even considered of the three schools involved?" asked Kurtz.

He went on to say that if the district is not going to spend money for additional buses, the best thing would be to have no busing in the district at all.

Sign Request

Clarification

By The HRC

A spokesman for the County Human Relations Commission has called a recent blast directed at the Commission by the president of the Pacifica Coastside Board of Realtors "an apparent misunderstanding."

Stuart Leeb, chairman of the Commission's Housing Subcommittee, in a letter dated November 14, informed John Geary that the Commission is "not requesting an ordinance requiring that real estate offices display signs" informing the public of their rights under the fair housing law.

Geary told the Pacifica City Council last week the posting of such signs was an "insult" to realtors and apartment house owners everywhere.

The outburst was prompted by an October 30 letter sent to various government agencies by HRC executive director James E. Forrest regarding the Fair Housing Ordinance.

Leeb attempted to clear up any misgivings about the letter in the wake of Geary's condemnation of it.

"... We are not requesting an ordinance requiring that real estate offices display signs, but simply are asking the Board (of Supervisors) and respective municipalities. (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Mother, Daughter Die In Coast Fire

By WILL THOMAS

A 25-year-old Pacifica mother and her six-year-old daughter perished Sunday when fire roared through a wood-frame dwelling on a tree-lined canyon street in the Rockaway Beach region.

The victims were identified as Sharon Kirk, 25, and her daughter, Lorie.

The husband and father, Douglas Kirk, also 25, is in Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, for treatment of body burns, and was reported in "satisfactory" condition this morning.

Kirk, an electrician, was found dazed, fire department sources said, standing in the front yard of the two-bedroom home the family rented at 424 Rockaway Beach Avenue.

Kirk apparently was awakened by the noise of the crackling fire, and left the bedroom, which opens into the dining room to investigate.

He found the room fully engulfed, and attempts to reach the bedrooms failed, because of intense heat, the flame and the smoke, according to fire department sources.

Kirk similarly was unable to open the doors that would have allowed him to walk outside. He opened a window and "sort of fell out," a fireman explained.

He told firemen, "I don't know where my wife and daughter are," and the room-by-room search for the young mother and her child began.

The fatal blaze was discovered shortly before 10:15, but it apparently had been burning for some time, and firemen describing it as "really rolling" when they arrived.

One of 21 firemen responding (10 paid, 11 volunteers) to the inferno, a block off Coast Highway on an old tree-lined street that runs in the middle of a long canyon, said he could see flames shooting into the night sky "halfway from Pacific Manor," where Central Fire Station is located.

Learning that Mrs. Kirk and the child apparently still were in the home, firemen donned smoke packs and entered the blazing structure.

Capt. Babe Evans said the dwelling was "fully engulfed," and that flame and smoke made it necessary to take in hose lines first, to reduce the heat.

Finally, Capt. Joe Hill found the mother and the little girl, each in her own bedroom. They were dead, Evans said.

The home, almost a total loss, was described as more than 20 years old and one of several old. (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

South San Francisco 'Island?'

A tropical island? Yes. Maybe. A traffic island? No. Definitely not.

Businessmen along South San Francisco's South Airport Boulevard actually weren't asked if they liked the former.

But the negative response to the latter suggestion was the essence of a public hearing at Monday night's council session.

And the councilmen dutifully referred the matter to improvement and widening of South Airport Boulevard back to city staff for study.

The staff also is to contact the businessmen along the roadway in order to "resolve the matter to the satisfaction of all."

Councilman Warren Steinkamp became an island in the sea of humanity attending the council session when he said the recommendations was "a waste of time."

Steinkamp said he felt the city should proceed with action on the roadway because the county was good enough to provide half the cost, "if the city would proceed immediately."

To which Councilman Patrick Ahern replied, "The problem is not in Redwood City. The problem is in South San Francisco."

The problem, incidentally, first came to light during the 4:30 p.m. pre-council session.

Gerald Rapp, representing the Holiday Inn, pretty much laid it on the line. He did, matter of fact, suggest a double yellow line in lieu of the traffic island.

"Putting a median there would penalize at least a half dozen 24-hour-a-day businesses just to control traffic at two peak periods," he said.

Project Engineer Bill Chapman had indicated that the purpose of the island was to facililate traffic movement, plus the safety factor.

Rapp told the councilmen that, "based on lunches alone," as many as 100 to 120 cars arrive at Holiday Inn within a 45-minute period.

"Nothing is more dangerous than 50 cars making a left turn at the same time," said Rapp. "And this is only one business."

"When we are running at full capacity, which is 90 per cent on an annual basis," said Rapp, "we have as high as 300 cars at the hotel."

"Then there are 200 employees, who contribute at least 90 cars a day, not to mention the 80-some trips a day our courtesy car makes," continued Rapp.

"The Holiday Inn alone will pay $70,000 this year for the city's hotel tax. You are asking us to cut off our life blood, when you hamper the access to our hotel."

Rapp's sentiments were echoed in varying degrees in council session communications from Berkeley Film Processing, Imperial 400 Motel, Bodinson Manufacturing Company and Phillips Petroleum Company, among others.

Miss Pacifica Entries Sought

The search is now on for Miss Pacifica, 1970, according to Aubrey Lumley, executive director of the Miss Pacifica Pageant.

Entrants are now being accepted for competition in California's award winning pageant of two years standing.

Scheduled for Saturday, April 25, 1970, at Terra Nova High School, the Miss Pacifica-Miss California Pageant will start one talented, poised, intelligent, and beautiful young lady from Pacifica on the road that leads to Atlantic City in September, 1970, and possibly Miss America.

Basically a scholarship program with $10,000 in college scholarships to the winner and several hundred thousand dollars in scholarships along the way (including scholarships to the top five finalists of the Miss Pacifica Pageant), Miss America will also receive $75,000 in personal appearance contracts during her reign.

The local pageant, franchised as an Official Miss California-Miss America Preliminary, is well known throughout the State of California, and will feature the Miss California Orchestra under the baton of Jack Fisher, the Benny Smith Dancers who are the official choreographers of the Miss California and Miss America Pageants, Susan Anton who is the current Miss California, and the well known Fred LaCosse as master of ceremonies.

Winner of the Miss Pacifica Pageant will go direct to competition in the Miss California Pageant in Santa Cruz next June and automatically receive an additional $100 scholarship for being a state contestant.

Entrants must be a high school graduate between the ages of 18 and 28 as of September 1, 1970 and a resident of the City of Pacifica for six months.

Contestants will be judged in evening gowns, swimsuits, and talent competition, as well as in personal interviews with the judging panel. Any young lady who meets the above requirements is welcome to enter. Prospective Miss Pacifica aspirants are urged to contact Mrs. Stan (Jana) Vander Hule at 1166 Mason Drive, Pacifica. Mrs. Van der Hule, along with Bonnie Healey, is in charge of entries.

Entry blanks can also be secured from the executive director.

This is the third year that the Chamber of Commerce sponsored pageant has held a Miss California Franchise. Last year, Miss Pacifica, 1969, was winner of the Preliminary Swimsuit Competition in Santa Cruz winning additional scholarships, and went on to become a semi-finalist in the top ten.

Along Colma Creek

S.S.F. Eyes Property

The City of South San Francisco is eyeing some property west of San Mateo Avenue, along the south bank of Colma Creek, to purchase in order to ease Colma Creek dredging operations.

Councilmen Monday night authorized the city manager to seek professional appraisal of the property so the city will be able to negotiate purchase of the land. Cost of the appraisal was estimated at $150 a day, and should be completed within five days.

Subdividers of the 130 by 240-foot parcel, Peisen and Simonson, apparently have a sale pending with another party, according to Louis Goss, director of public works.

A price quoted during the 4:30 p.m. precouncil session, estimated on basis of the pending sale, was $2.70 a square foot.

The councilmen were told the city needs approximately 80 feet of land in order to continue dredging Colma Creek. The usual procedure is to scrape the sand out, put it on the bank and let it dry out before hauling it away. In the past, the city has used the nearby property without incident.

However, due to the fact the developers indicate they will be selling the property, the city staff felt the city should enter into negotiation for its purchase.

The purchase would allow the city to continue its method of dredging, rather than hauling away wet sand.

Councilmen were told that the flood control of the creek was in jeopardy. City staff members pointed out that the city could recoup the money by selling the land at a later date, after Colma Creek flood control was built up.

There also were indications that the city might want other property on the east side of San Mateo Avenue at a later date.

If the city is unable to reach a satisfactory agreement, they could continue use of the land through the right of eminent domain, if necessary.

Financial Assist For I & R Centers

report, the center was to receive the $5,000 in quarterly payments, with the first payment immediately.

The center, in turn, was to provide the city with periodic reports of progress before obtaining subsequent payments.

Another requirement was that the center's director would be a South San Francisco resident.

A series of faux pas apparently soured Ross on the operation.

Told originally the center would be servicing up to 5,000 persons in the "war on poverty," the first report received by Ross indicated the center had contacted 125 students, urging them to go to junior college, and 75 adults, urging them to go to night school.

These numbers, plus 116 people quoted in the report as "coming into the office," since the center's opening August 18, was to Ross "considerably less" than the promised 5,000.

The Center's director, Robert Zertuch, who incidentally resigned on November 12, told Ross the center could do a better job of placing minority groups than the state employment office across the street, "because they don't speak a foreign language."

Ross checked and found that the state employment office has people that at least speak three foreign languages.

To top that off, Zertuch had appeared at a council study session and failed to inform the councilmen that he had submitted his resignation "to go back to school."

Ross also indicated that Mrs. Rendon might be a likely successor, but she lives in Burlingame, not South San Francisco which is a prerequisite for a permanent replacement, and the city knows nothing of her qualifications.

In addition, the city's contribution was originally based on an assumed $20,000 contribution by the county to the center.

Mrs. Smallwood explained away, apparently to the councilmen's satisfaction, most of Ross' doubts.

As to the foreign language abilities of the state employment office, she said it probably was prompted by the fact that most of the people they send over there for jobs are treated in a "demeaning manner."

To top that off, Zertuch had appeared at a council study session and failed to inform the councilmen that he had submitted his resignation "to go back to school."

Ross also indicated that Mrs. Rendon might be a likely successor, but she lives in Burlingame, not South San Francisco to pass a resolution or ordinance urging any and all offices having to do with the sale or rental of housing within San Mateo County... to post the sign," Leeb wrote.

The purpose of the request in the first place, was to enable those persons who were likely to be discriminated against to learn of their rights under the law, Leeb explained.

"It was our belief that the most obvious place for them to see such documentation was in the offices where they go to seek housing," he pointed out.

Pacific City attorney John Sherman questioned the constitutionality of the action before the council and suggested a ruling be requested from the attorney general's office on the subject.

"We doubt if your city council need be concerned about the constitutionality of such action as our request can be accomplished in the form of a resolution," Leeb said, adding, "Such a resolution has already been approved by the County Board of Supervisors and the City of Half Moon Bay."

er homes along picturesque Rockaway Street.

While firemen were able to get a quick stop on the fire, they were unable to completely extinguish it until nearly 1 a.m.

And a "fire watch" — one fireman — was maintained at the scene of the tragedy until the next day, while fire officials continued their investigation into the cause.

A neighbor, Carlo Willford of 430 Rockaway, was one of the several persons calling the fire department.

A policeman said another neighbor was playing water from a garden hose through a door but that the effort was in vain.

Only one room, the living room located on one side of the house, up front, escaped major damage.

The rear portion of the structure, where the fire might have started, was destroyed.

An adjacent house, 10 feet to the west, was not damaged.

Evans said that Kirk, an electrician for an airlines company, and his family had lived in the home for a couple of years.

The structure was owned by a San Francisco fireman, Donald Coyner of Daly City.

A fire department spokesman disclosed yesterday that Pacifica Insurance Association investigators are sifting the gutted, charred structure for clues as to the cause.

Among several areas, firemen reportedly are looking into the condition of a floor furnace in the dining room, which was destroyed.

Ted Moore Of Millbrae Wins Contest

Ted Moore, Millbrae, is the Times-S-P-O-S-T football contest weekly winner of two tickets to the Cal-Stanford "big game."

Moore, a banker working in Palo Alto, and 15 other contestants correctly selected the winning team in 14 of the 15 contest games.

But Moore guessed the exact yardage gained by the 49ers in their upset of the Baltimore Colts — 408 yards rushing and passing.

If no contestant picks all 15 winning teams this weekend, the contest winner will be awarded two tickets to the 49er-Chicago game to be played on Saturday, December 6.

For anyone who does correctly select all 15 winners, the cash prize will be $500 and a $50 bonus to a home delivered Times subscriber.

Contestants are reminded that more than one entry per envelope will result in disqualification by contest judges.

The weekly deadline for mailing entries to the contest is midnight, Thursday, November 20 and all entries must be received before 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, November 22.

Sniper: S.S.F. Woman Raps Statement

An angry South San Francisco woman went to bat Friday for her son and six other students at El Camino High School whom she felt had been branded as "liars" by the Sheriff's Office.

Mrs. Hazel Bias charged that the Sheriff's Office had failed to make a proper investigation before announcing that a report by the seven boys that they had been shot at on San Bruno Mountain on October 30 was "completely unfounded."

For example, she said, no one from the office talked to her 16-year-old son, David.

"My son was not lying," Mrs. Bias insisted. "When he came home that day his face was white and he was scared to death."

Mrs. Bias said that David and the other boys are sticking by their story that they were threatened and shot at by two men while practicing with the school cross-country team on the hillside near the school.

"My son is president of the Junior Class," Mrs. Bias said,

Sniper Story 'False'

The tale of seven members of the El Camino High School cross-country track team that they were shot at by two riflemen on San Bruno Mountain on October 30 was completely unfounded, Assistant Sheriff Eugene E. Stewart reported last week.

According to Stewart, an investigation determined that two Daly City brothers, 20 and 22, were target shooting in the area at the time, but they were nowhere close to the track team nor did they yell to the youths, "Get out of here," as reported.

"The story apparently just snowballed by the time they got back to school," Stewart said today. He said that the two brothers "had no idea a confrontation had been made," and that they didn't even shoot near the boys.

Two of the members of the track team reported to Edward Costa, track coach at the high school in South San Francisco, that they had yelled to the gunmen to stop shooting and the men yelled back, "Get out of here," and shot over their heads.

"This story turns out to be completely false," Stewart said.

Costa at the time complained that the South San Francisco police department and the sheriff's office failed to send an officer to the scene, and that the men were still shooting when he went to the area 45 minutes later. The two brothers, who frequently target shoot in the area, were traced through their license number obtained by Costa.

Stewart said many marksmen use isolated areas of San Bruno Mountain to practice.

Soil Election Improvement Is Sought

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson was directed by the Board of Supervisors November 12 to determine of something can be done to improve election procedures for the San Mateo County Soil Conservation District.

The action was prompted by a letter from Paul Cowgill, 200 Lake Drive, San Bruno, complaining of the expense involved in holding a special election for directors November 4.

"This thing needs to be overhauled," commented Supervisor Jean Fassler.

Sorenson said that there are several improvements which could be made in soil conservation district procedures. In addition to elections, he stated, there is the problem of de-annexing from the district. The City of Pacifica has been attempting for some time, without success, to de-annex several parcels of property within the city from the conservation district. The district directors "have not been receptive," Sorenson stated.

County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church suggested that the county study an effort in Sacramento County to modify soil conservation district procedures there. He expressed doubt that too much is going to be accomplished, however, because soil conservationists are quite strong in the state.

Sorenson said he will prepare an overall report on the matter.

Bruno Traffic Count Provides Better Figures

More up-to-date traffic count figures will be obtained from the San Bruno Avenue-Crestmoor Drive intersection of San Bruno at the request of Councilman Maurice Hamilton.

The councilman said he has received numerous complaints from persons who have traveled on Crestmoor Drive on their way to Crestmoor High School and have difficulty crossing San Bruno Avenue because of the steady flow of traffic.

The city's traffic safety committee earlier had denied a stop sign on San Bruno Avenue.

One called for the extending of the red zone north of a similar existing zone on the east side of San Mateo Avenue, north of the north driveway exit from the H. S. Crocker Company.

The second recommendation was to place a four-way stop at the intersection of Sequoia and Fleetwood Drives.

Missing S.F. Woman Found On Hillside Behind Skyline

WARREN C. OLSON JR.

A San Francisco woman, reportedly missing from her home three days, was located Thursday by her teen-age son and a Pacifica police officer on a hillside in brushy terrain between the Skyline College in San Bruno and the eastern reaches of Sharp Park Golf Course in Pacifica.

Mrs. Pauline Peoples, 43, of 173 Haight Street, appeared to be suffering, firemen said, from exposure, shock and a fractured right leg, in addition to possible internal injuries and cuts and bruises.

A spokesman for Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City said she was being treated for dehydration, possibly as a result of exposure.

Listed as in "satisfactory" condition, there apparently were no fractures or internal injuries, although the victim was bruised.

Such was sitting, in a semi-conscious state, amid some brush on the hillside, located about one-quarter of a mile from the nearest accessible road — near the Heather Farm, off Sharp Park Road, the source said.

The woman apparently had left her Haight Street residence on November 11, and had neither been seen nor heard from since then, authorities indicated.

However, Thursday her car was located on the parking lot of the new Skyline College in western San Bruno, east of where she ultimately was found.

Her teen-age son, Samuel Peoples Jr., went to Pacifica police with the information, and he and Patrolman Tom Severence hiked up a steep, brushy incline to conduct a subsequently fruitful search of the hillside region.

With the woman's son staying behind, Severence descended the slope and contacted firemen and other policemen. And an ambulance was summoned.

The rescue party worked its way up the hill, where the woman and her son waited. Fifteen minutes or so later the woman's leg was being splinted and she was placed in a basket for the slow downhill trip.

Pacifica firemen said Asst. Chief Cal Hinton and Capt. Joe Hill of their department, two San Bruno patrolmen, Pacifica police Sgt. Tom Hanley and two ambulance attendants carried the woman to the fire department's rescue rig, on which she was transported to the ambulance parked at the Heather Farm.

Pacifica Girl Is Rescued

A 17-year-old girl suffered a fractured elbow when she fell some 60 feet off a Pacifica Manor region cliff November 11, Pacifica firemen reported.

The victim was Rose M. Shelton of 367 Nelson Avenue, Pacifica, who apparently was playing in the sand dunes behind the Esplanade Apartments when she slid in a wet spot near the edge of the bluff and fell at 2:30 p.m.

Her boy friend aided her until firemen arrived at the scene, authorities said. The girl declined a ride up in the fire department's basket lift and was assisted up the cliff on foot instead.

Realtors To Seat Leader

Warren C. Olson Jr., will be installed as the new Board President of the North San Mateo County Board of Realtors at their twenty-third Inaugural luncheon to be held on Thursday, at the New Southern Restaurant, South San Francisco.

Other Officers and Directors to be installed are: Sidney S. Miller, Vice-president; Donald Craighead, Secretary; Mel Masolo, Treasurer; Directors, Harry Gable, Robert A. Marshall, Ronald C. Arndt, Robert Liccardo, Robert N. Miller, and Gordon Kenny, Frank Mirabella and Alan Jones.

Present to install the new Officers and Directors will be Raymond Spinelli, 1970 Regional Vice-President, CREA Twenty-fifth District.

Chairman of the Day will be George Osborne and the Invocation will be given by Pastor Norman E. Nelson. Million Dollar Club Awards and the "Salesman of the Year" award will be presented, with "Comments on the Year 1969" by Harry Gable, 1969 Board President.

Accident Triggers Petition

By FRANK LAPIERRE

A group of Daly City residents have petitioned the city asking that a stop sign be installed on the corner of East Market and Wyandotte Streets in the wake of a recent auto-bicycle accident there.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett ordered an immediate investigation of the accident in which seven-year-old David Hernandez, of 81 Teresa Street, was seriously injured when his bike was struck by a private auto while the youngster was crossing the roadway November 4 at 1:05 p.m.

Police said the accident might have occurred even if a stop sign had been installed at the intersection — near the Colma K-6 elementary school.

Their on-the-spot investigation at the time of the accident revealed that the auto, driven by Robert S. Killian, 21, of 424 Chester Street, Daly City, lost its brakes either immediately before or at the time of collision with the bike.

Killian, an unemployed construction worker, told police he heard a "pop" and felt the brakes go out on his car. A trail of what appeared to be brake fluid was found at the scene.

It was also noted by police that the car's right front brake line had been worn considerably from rubbing against the car frame.

The young victim was dragged for about 150 feet after being hit. He received extensive injuries to his head and the left side of his face, a spokesman at Mary's Help Hospital said.

Once the report is in, the mayor is expected to huddle with members of the city's Traffic Committee to discuss the matter further.

Car In Chase Stolen; Two Youths Held

Two juveniles were taken to Hillcrest Juvenile Center Wednesday after the stolen car they were riding in smashed into two parked cars and a utility pole.

The pair was attempting to elude a Daly City patrolman, Russell Cunningham, who had been pursuing them since spotting a traffic violation, according to Police Lt. Thomas Culley.

The brief chase began in the vicinity of Guttenburg and Bellevue streets, Culley explained and continued for about a mile over narrow, hilly residential streets east of Mission Street, shortly after 1 a.m.

Near Concord and Mission streets the moving chase ended when the car, which proved to be stolen out of San Francisco, Culley noted, smashed into two parked autos and a utility pole.

However, neither occupant of the car was injured and both started to flee on foot. But Cunningham was more fleet of foot and nabbed one of the young suspects — 15 and 16-year-old Negros.

Fire Rages Through D.C. Home

Fueled by paints and thinner, a bullet-popping fire raged through the basement of a Westlake home Wednesday, causing an estimated $12,000 damage.

A Daly City Fire Department spokesman, Battalion Chief Mel Hansen, said the blaze of undetermined origin at 718 Southgate Avenue was discovered shortly after 6:45 p.m. by a taxi-cab driver and neighbors.

The owner, mechanic William Santa Cruz, his wife and their son, had left the home "a little while before this occurred," Hansen declared.

Hansen said fire officials "don't know exactly" what exploded in the basement, but he noted a "considerable amount" of paints and thinners had been in the garage area.

Santa Cruz, the fireman said, is a hunter who does his own shell loading, and the heat of the fire caused several rounds to pop as firemen attempted to extinguish the blaze.

Hansen described the basement-garage "in bad shape when we got there," and he recalled that the force of the initial explosion had blown out the bottom corner of the front door as well as rear windows.

"The heat got so intense, it melted out a plastic fitting on a natural gas line, which also fed the flames," Chief Hansen pointed out.

The flames, however, did not get into the upstairs living area, Hansen said, although smoke damage was caused.

"It was smoked up, but not sooty," Hansen explained.

The fire burned the walls and the roof of the garage — but did not burn through exterior walls.

"It was considerably hot there for a while," Hansen said, though he said the firemen were primarily concerned about the "ammunition going off." They were "popping like good-sized firecrackers," he declared.

He said officials were having difficulty initially "reconstructing" what happened, however pointed out that there was "an awfully strong odor of lacquer paint thinner," even after the fire had been put out.

Motorcycle Problem In San Bruno

There's a motorcycle problem in San Bruno.

Councilmen, at least, feel the need to investigate reports of speeding, stunting, gunning of engines and sidewalk driving of the vehicles in the Santa Lucia Avenue-El Camino Real area.

During his report last week on the recent planning commission meeting, Councilman Maurice Hamilton requested the city manager check out citizen complaints.

"If half of what they are saying is true, we have a serious problem," said Hamilton. He was referring to complaints from among others, Lomita Park area residents who were instrumental in bringing about the denial of a use permit by the planning commission.

The use permit was being sought by D. R. Herling of San Mateo to open a shop at 109 Santa Lucia Avenue. However, the neighboring firm, Comarota Honda, 1776 El Camino Real, obviously suffered in the verbal melee, too.

Four Daly City Scouts Honored

Four Daly City Boy Scouts have been commended by the Serra District of the San Francisco Bay Area Council for their roles in locating three lost children near St. Helena early in September.

They are Donald Campbell, Ronald Kennedy, Marcos Negron and Sam Tome, all members of Boy Scout Troop 62, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of the George Washington Elementary School in Daly City. Their leader on the September 13-14 overnight camp-out was Ralph Campbell, the troop's assistant scoutmaster.

The scouts have received for their "exemplary action and vivid demonstration of the Scout Oath and Law in action," special certificates and medals.

This story of their action was told:

On a camping trip to the White Cottage Ranch near St. Helena, the scouts and their leader were sitting around campfire when they heard cries for help coming from the surrounding woods.

With but three flashlights among them, the scouts and leader Campbell instituted a search pattern, to locate the source of the cries.

After nearly two hours of searching — following the cries — the Scouts came upon three youngsters, their ages ranging from seven to nine years, who had become separated from a teen-aged babysitter at 2:30 p.m.

The children had wondered

Coast Raid Jails Five

Policeman and undercover agents from County, State and local Pacifica police arrested five suspects in the coastal town Wednesday afternoon on marijuana charges — but not before one man was wounded by a bullet from a policeman's gun.

Pacifica Police said that Chris Greenfield, 23, 820 Arguello, Pacifica, was shot in the left bicep and right side of the head, after he wheeled and struck the gun in the hand of a county undercover agent who was trying to frisk him.

Greenfield was taken to Mary's Help Hospital and then transferred to County General Hospital where he was treated and moved to jail. He was booked for conspiracy to sell marijuana.

The arrests came as a result of a four-week investigation in the San Mateo coastal area in the last month involving the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office, the California Bureau of Narcotics and local police.

The Pacifica dragnet started a week ago, police said. Arrest warrants for the sale of narcotics were issued for:

—Steve Terranova, 20, 5 Cramham Court, Pacifica, on a three-count charge of suspicion of sale of marijuana.

—Dwight Carter, 23, 1288 Lerida, Pacifica, for suspicion of sale of marijuana.

—Claude Forney, 18, 1096 Anza, Pacifica, and Greenfield, both for suspicion of conspiracy to sell marijuana.

—Doug Hawker, 18, 1490 Serra, Pacifica, alleged sale of marijuana and sale of dangerous drugs.

Jeff District Superintendent Grilled By Hostile Audience

Apparently there is something to that old saying that sticks and stones can break your bones but words can't hurt you. If not, Daly City's Jefferson Elementary School District Superintendent Frank Greenwood still would be patching bodily wounds as a result of last night's board meeting.

There was no visible evidence of blood, but the 50-member audience possibly had the superintendent sweating somewhat as he was heard to murmur on several occasions, "I have no comment."

It might even justifiably be said that the regular board meeting was really a "Get Greenwood" night. It seemed as though every agenda item discussed somehow got back to the superintendent's relationship within the district, or lack of same.

An obviously hostile audience even had the board members amend the minutes of the two previous meetings, that of October 28 and the special meeting of November 3, because they didn't feel they reflected all of the discussion that took place during those sessions.

Continuation of the matter of student testing was the first facade that broke down to reveal charged emotions. There was no action required, but plenty of reaction abounded.

Apparently, the administration felt the state method of testing sixth graders was not representative of the school district. The term invalid also was tossed about.

Greenwood, who was being chastised for supposedly trying to hide the test results, which mysteriously got into the hands of parents, said: "It is impossible to get the general public to understand test results."

Mrs. Beverly Forrester, from the audience, said she had talked with officials in Sacramento November 12 and was told that test results were supposed to be presented to the board at a "regular" board meeting.

She asked Greenwood if there was a relationship between the fact the parents had obtained a copy of test results and the fact a "special" board meeting was scheduled for November 3 to make them public.

"I have no comment," said Greenwood.

Said Mrs. Forrester: "It seems strange that when you get painted into a corner, Mr. Greenwood, that you then bring up the matter at a special board meeting."

Greenwood again said he had no comment.

Mrs. Reva Krips, another member of the audience, then addressed the board, and was more direct in her approach.

"Greenwood should resign and everyone involved with the testing should resign if they feel the test results are invalid. No one else says they are invalid or incorrect. But if they are invalid, the entire report listing the results of the testing was a complete waste of time and money."

Mrs. Krips, reading from the report, asked "Is insite invalid?" and pointed out that administrator Vinton Stratton commended the committee analyzing the testing. "If Stratton thinks this committee did a good enough job, and the results are invalid, then Dr. Stratton should resign too," she said.

Board member Edward Tomasello, obviously anticipating such an outburst, read from a prepared statement.

"At a special board meeting on November 3, the administration was called upon to explain a written report that was purported to be very damaging to our school district."

"The administration has offered to present the same material to any P-TA that should request the same explanation. The material has been exposed as a collection of half-truths, opinions, and facts out of context. The purpose of this material was to utilize it for stimulation of discussion by the professional staff. This was borne out by the members of the committee that prepared the material."

"My great concern," continued Tomasello, "is that a member of the professional staff qualified to evaluate the material, and know what its purpose was, give this false material to Mrs. Reva Krips; an unsuccessful candidate for the school board."

Tomasello went on to say that any principal or teacher would know the information interpreted by a lay person would destroy that person's confidence in their district. And that an accusation that such material was suppressed from the public and the board would destroy the integrity of the district in the mind of the public.

"I believe Mrs. Krips was sincere, but duped into spreading this misleading information," said Tomasello.

He challenged Mrs. Krips to reveal the name of the principal who has been giving her "detrimental information." She refused, pleading privileged information. Some cooler heads did prevail during the stormy session. A Mrs. Michael Pleich, said, "I don't like all these insinuations I've heard tonight. If they are true, let's back them up. As parents, we don't know where we stand. But I do know that in order to build up our district we don't have to tear it down."

Clifford Peterson, principal of the Abraham Lincoln School, said, "Rabble rousing leaders in the community are doing the district more bad, than good. Some of you had better be getting exact facts."

San Bruno City Councilmen Take Stand On Point Reyes

Councilmen, too, have the information of lack of public right to change their minds.

San Bruno councilmen did just that on November 10 by taking a definite stand on the subject of the preservation of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

They unanimously passed a resolution to support efforts to save the area for recreational use. Councilman Maurice Hamilton urged his peers to action, saying he has found "revealing ownership" in the area.

Council action undoubtedly would have pleased one young man who attended the September 22 council session. The youth had pleaded with the councilmen to take some form of official action to preserve the seashore.

At that time the young man was told by the councilmen that they felt appropriate action was already being taken "from the state governor on up."

Daly City Senior Citizens Carry Their Tax Case To Jefferson El Board

By BOB PETERSON

Daly City's senior citizens have carried the plight of their meager existence from the chambers of the county board of supervisors to their own backyard.

Target on November 12 was the meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School District; specifically, an item on the agenda concerning salary increase proposals for the district's superintendent and assistant superintendents.

Julius Castelan, that spry president of the Daly City senior citizens group who called the county supervisors "fat cats who sit there and eat all you want," was at it again.

"I won't call you fat cats, like I did the supervisors," Castelan told the school board members. "I can promise you this; the senior citizens will not vote for any bonds for any purpose if the salary increase goes through, nor will they vote for any incumbent who votes for this salary increase."

Whether this had any effect is conjecture. One thing is certain: there was no salary increase given—last night at least.

Superintendent Frank Greenwood for the (sorry, forgot the number) umpteenth time requested the salary item be held over. He asked for an executive session on the matter following completion of the regular meeting. It lasted about 20 minutes, but trustees returned with no further action.

Castelan, backed by a troop of senior citizens, as well as representatives of the Spanish-speaking American minority, spoke bluntly and succinctly.

Realizing the microphone for the use of the audience was not in proper working order, he also had no hesitation about moving administrator Vinton Stratton out of his seat to verbalize over that mike.

Conceding that the superintendent's salary possibly is $25,500 and the assistants' salaries are $23,750, rather than the $25,524 and $23,865 respectively he had record of, Castelan bared the facts as he saw them.

"The fact remains that this is $114 per working day," he said. "We have 3,524 senior citizens in Daly City. Of these about 1,000 are getting along with less than $200 a month, and paying taxes too."

"When a man gets $25,000, or $114 a day, and asks for more, he's pretty ambitious," Castelan said he didn't go along with the idea that just because the school budget was at a certain level, the administrators should be entitled to a steadily increasing salary.

"It's not like private industry," said Castelan. "In industry, a manager is paid to increase the company's profits. Here, he spends our money."

Acknowledging the fact the county tax assessor is the one who sets the tax rate, Castelan pointed to the board as being jointly responsible for "forcing senior citizens to sell the homes they own and have been paying taxes on for as long as 40 years."

He cited the example of senior citizens who pay as much as $600 a year in taxes from the $200 a month they live on, with 65 per cent of the tax going to the schools.

To temporarily take the heat off Greenwood, the senior citizen leader casually mentioned that "I can think of a lot of teachers getting too much wages, too."

But he re-emphasized his point. "There are many other purposes this money could be used for. Kids go to school hungry in the morning and don't eat at noon because of lack of money," he said.

Castelan also stated that the senior citizens are ready to circulate a petition throughout the state to put a one per cent maximum tax on property.

"Believe me, we are going to do it," he said. "For next year's ballot. You'd better pay attention to the senior citizens and minority groups. We can get a majority vote."

Jeff Teacher Case To Court

The Jefferson High School District went to court November 12 to fire a Westmoor High School art teacher who was convicted in August in Hawaii of a charge of possession of marijuana.

In a lawsuit filed in Superior Court in Redwood City the district asks that a series of charges brought by Superintendent Edward Morgan against Selwyn Jones, 47, be sustained and that the district be authorized to dismiss him as a permanent teacher.

Morgan's statement of charges includes: immoral conduct, conviction of a crime involving a moral turpitude, dishonesty and evident unfitness for service.

Jones was suspended without pay by the Board of Trustees on October 16 and notified that, unless he appealed, his dismissal would take effect in 30 days. Jones did appeal and demanded a hearing.

The tenure teacher was convicted on the pot charge last August 22 after pleading no contest. He was placed on probation for two years and fined $200.

North County Educators Pay Visit To West Point

Leo Vannucci of Capuchino High School in San Bruno and Tom Panagoulas of Pacifica recently returned from a tour of the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York.

The three-day tour was sponsored jointly by the Academy and the U.S. Army Recruiting Service.

Thirty-four educators from the Northern California and Western Nevada areas completed the annual visit which was initiated to provide high school counselors and senior educators with an opportunity to become familiar with admission procedures and the academic program offered at West Point.

During the tour the educators had the opportunity to meet and talk with cadets, and to observe their education and training on a first-hand basis.

The educators also visited the various academic departments, the chapel, library, and museum, and were escorted through one of the dormitories for a first-hand glimpse of how a West Point cadet lives. They enjoyed a meal as guests of the cadets in their dining hall. On the final day of the tour they observed a full-dress parade by one of the cadet regiments.

'Long Day' Play Set For Skyline

Dr. J. C. Campbell
Dentist

Skyline College Theatre will present 3 performances of Eugene O'Neill's autobiographical drama, "Long Day's Journey Into Night," opening tomorrow at 8 p.m., sharp. The production will be given in the Studio Theatre, with performances on November 20, 21 and 22. Tickets will be sold at the door on the evening of performance.

"Long Day's Journey Into Night" is based on O'Neill's early manhood. The Tyrone family of the play represent O'Neill's parents and older brother, with O'Neill himself as the younger brother, "Edmund Tyrone."

Written in 1941, but not produced until after O'Neill's death, the play was a gift to his wife, Carlotta, on the occasion of their 12th wedding anniversary. In a personal note covering his presentation of the original script, O'Neill described the work as a "play of old sorrow, written in tears and blood." He attributed to Carlotta O'Neill "... the faith in love that enabled me to face my dead at last and write this play—write it with deep pity and understanding and forgiveness for all the four haunted Tyrones."

Bob Bookbinder of South San Francisco appears as James Tyrone, Sr. A sophomore at Skyline, Bookbinder attended College of San Mateo last year and appeared there in three major roles: as Goldberg, in Pinter's "The Birthday Party," as master of ceremonies in "Oh What a Lovely War," and as Cleante, in "The Miser." Now a Drama major, his interest in the theatre goes back to high school days; at SSFHS

Suspects In Kidnap Jailed; Girl Says Forced Into Car

A 16-year-old Pacifica girl had decided to assault her also, but the girl said she feigned being sick and got a car window open. She then got the door open and ran from the car, toward house lights in the distance, she said, but then saw auto headlights coming and ran toward them. It was Smith.

The girl eventually ended up at home and the three suspects in county jail on a variety of bookings.

The girl told Officer Arlie Smith she had been forced into the car with the three men on Mission Street near Twentieth Street in San Francisco last night and raped once by one of the men while en route to Half Moon Bay.

After reaching Redondo Beach the other two allegedly had decided to assault her also, but the girl said she feigned being sick and got a car window open. She then got the door open and ran from the car, toward house lights in the distance, she said, but then saw auto headlights coming and ran toward them. It was Smith.

The three suspects booked were: Aurelio F. Cabello, 23, a printer, and Moise G. Rios, 22, a machinist, of San Francisco, and Albert Cardoso, 25, 560 C Street, Colma, a laborer. All were booked on suspicion of kidnapping, conspiracy and assault with intent to commit rape, with Cabello also on suspicion of rape, the girl claiming he was the one who actually assaulted her.

The victim said the three had stopped at a Pacifica liquor store en route south and bought what she thought was champagne and had forced her to drink some. At Redondo Beach they had drunk and talked for about three minutes before one of the other men moved to assault her, at which time she made her escape, she went on.

The three suspects were to appear in Central District Municipal Court this morning for arraignment.

Bruno Garbage Problems Mount

By BOB PETERSON

All San Bruno councilmen could offer the man complaining about a mounting garbage problem was sympathy.

The man was Ernest Giesch, owners' representative who had earlier that Monday evening consummated an extensive, and apparently favorable, land exchange between some of his clients and the city.

This garbage problem, however, weighted heavy on his mind.

"Everyone has been using the so-called Navy lands—an area bounded by San Bruno Avenue, Sneath Lane, Junipero Serra Boulevard and El Camino Real—for dumping," said Giesch.

"The city has done nothing to stop it. We (owners of the land, whom he represents) feel the city has a certain responsibility in this matter."

Giesch said that in the last four-to-six-months dumping in the area has increased ten-fold.

"The county health inspector has written us a letter saying this increase in dumping has also increased the breeding ground for rodents," said the owners' representative.

Giesch indicated that he has exhausted every effort to get rid of the garbage, saying, "This includes the kitchen sink, too." His main concern though was the "wet garbage," and the question of why the dumping was being allowed to continue.

Mayor Neil Christal said the city is not at fault. "We sympathize with you," said Christal. "We don't know any other solution than for you to hire someone to remove it. As we all know, garbage is going to be more and more of a problem."

Councilman Maurice Hamilton added that the San Bruno Garbage Company is unwilling to pick up any additional garbage—"even for money."

"We'll get rid of it, because we have to," said Giesch, admitting that the county health people are on his back. He also quoted a figure of $3,700 as the cost of removing the garbage to Mountain View.

S.S.F. Chamber Seeks Manager

In case you're interested, the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce is now accepting applications for the position of manager.

Walter McRae, chamber president, said anyone who feels qualified and wishes to apply for the position may submit a resume to the chamber office.

"Fifty cents a mile just for the truck, alone," he said.

Giesch also mentioned that he intended to place chain gates in front of the entrances to the dumping site, at Elm and Cherry Avenues, "and three or four signs, too."

Councilmen pointed out that the city already has an ordinance that prohibits the hauling of garbage through city streets by other than licensed firms, plus a "no-dumping" ordinance.

They said they might notify the police department to extend a better surveillance of the area to discourage dumping, but couldn't actually order the police to do it.

For what it was worth, a lady in the audience, Mrs. Sylvia

School Theft Probe Continues

Police in Pacifica are continuing their investigation into the theft of two sophomore class attendance record books from Oceana High School.

The authorities said the school was burglarized, the two absentee books removed and later burned and destroyed.

Gregory, 141 Madison Avenue, offered moral support. She said she had a petition concerning pollution she was attempting to get people to sign, which called for the state to amend the constitution.

The amendment would say in effect that it is the right of citizens to have clean air, land and water, and it is the responsibility of those creating these problems to rectify the situation.

"My concern is smog rather than garbage," said Mrs. Gregory, "but anyone can sign this petition."

Band Fund Is Growing

The campaign to raise funds to send members of South San Francisco's El Camino High School stage band to West Germany next spring has reached $4,175. The parents' club in charge of raising the money seeks $25,000.

Parents' club president Ron Acosta told his board of directors this week that a combination of parent contributions and pledges and various gifts and donations have been received so far. He said the group hopes to raise the funds by February.

Several thousand letters have been sent by the committee to Peninsula businessmen asking their support.

Acosta said contributors are being given tickets to a special showing of the film "Hello Dolly," December 19, on a basis of $50 or $25 per ticket, depending on the seat location. He said a limited number of seats are available on the basis of $10 per ticket.

Nearly 40 members of El Camino's stage band, vocal soloists, dancers, chorus members and actors have been named by band and drama directors Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Marr to make the trip. The students will entertain at high schools and community meetings in the Westphalia section of West Germany next April.

Burglars Take $1300 In Cash

A burglary discovered early on Monday at the Greyhound Bus Depot, 214 Airport Boulevard, South San Francisco, netted thieves an estimated $1,300.

Police said forced entry was made through a rear door. The safe also was pried open.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS . . .

By Alice Reichert

Le Pacini, Terra Nova High School English, creative writing, and journalism teacher (also sports columnist for this paper), attended a Skyline College mass media class last Wednesday morning as a guest speaker.

He has a master's degree in creative writing (and an AB in journalism), is a part-time professional writer, and has taught all age groups from junior high to adult students for 12 years in the mass media field.

His knowledge and experience with students in journalism led him to speak on "The Importance of Student Journalism in the Mass Media Today."

Every area he's taught in, he said, has demonstrated to him the importance of student journalists. (Besides having advised student production of weekly, bi-weekly, and monthly newspapers, and the publication of T.N.'s quarterly news magazine, Pacini has advised individual students in holding positions in the mass media such as with this writer.)

Students are very often right, he says and it often takes a student to point out weaknesses in "the establishment."

Students only need to be shown how to cause an effective change through writing. Too often they are discouraged, causing them to give up and write on mundane topics, using little imagination, and to no ultimate good.

One fault of student journalists editorializing is that kids too often write pointed accusations, only to anger people, Pacini said. This closes communications down, so that neither the establishment or the student will even try to communicate ideas.

"The most effective tool for beating the establishment is to use their book of rules to show their faults." Wit, humor, and charm are good to use, he went on. "A good reporter can make the establishment stick its foot in its mouth, and make it like the taste of leather."

These methods described by Pacini were used by him as a student editor, columnist, and in various other newspaper positions at San Francisco State.

For his major example of effective journalistic accomplishment in high school, he highlighted several Tiger Tales situations.

"No one can do anything if you print the truth," he said to describe the overall rule pertaining to writing.

For instance, some people didn't like the T.N. publication's in-depth stories on subjects such as John Birchers, venereal disease, marijuana conflicts, and teenage homosexuality.

But the stories were all done with good taste, and all done truthfully.

"You have to give a kid responsibility, or you'll never know if he's responsible," he said. If a student is on his own, he realizes more clearly how the story must be handled tastefully, and why.

MARY'S HELP HOSPITAL GUILD'S Boutique de Noel will commence with a champagne preview sale Thursday, from 7:30-9:30 p.m., in the hospital's solarium. While there is no admission fee, potential guests are urged to contact Mrs. Philip Coniglio in Daly City to confirm their attendance. The sale will continue for a week in the solarium, with proceeds going toward the guild's fulfillment of a $150,000 pledge for construction of a coronary care unit. (Times Photo)

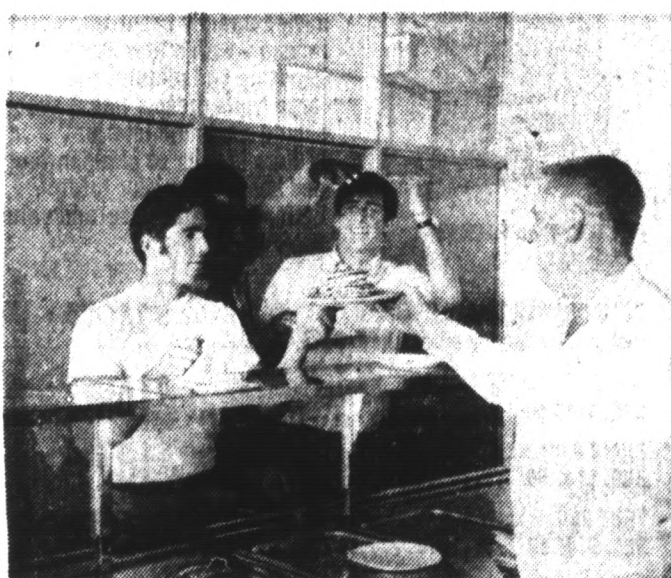

Benefit Pancake Breakfast Set For Westmoor

"Hot off the Griddle" is the catchy slogan for the Westmoor High School P-TA's pancake breakfast November 23, from 9 to 12 a.m.

The menu will include pancakes, fruit juice, sausage, coffee and milk.

The chairman, Mrs. Mary Short announced that this year's breakfast will be in honor of the championship varsity football team at Westmoor. Tickets are available from Mrs. Short at 23 Castleton, Daly City, or may be purchased at the door the morning of the breakfast.

Profits from the breakfast will benefit the student-school grant fund.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Good morning, good cooks. Thanksgiving Day is just a week away and it's not too soon to be planning our menu's and doing some shopping.

Even though the days of going "Over the hills and through the woods to Grandmother's house" have been replaced by hopping a jet and flying over the country, or jumping into a car and going "over the bridge and down the freeways," the basic idea remains the same.

A wonderful opportunity for the family to gather. To enjoy the good company, to talk, to laugh and to be grateful for all the blessings they share. And incidentally, to share a meal.

Speaking of sharing, I'd like to share, with you good cooks, some ideas for that meal. A molded salad is a great help in planning meals for a large crowd for they can be made and set aside to wait patiently until needed.

Cranberries are a part of Thanksgiving eating, this first recipe combines cranberries with gelatin to make an attractive and tasty salad.

CRANBERRY-RASPBERRY MOLD

- 1 package raspberry gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 can whole cranberry sauce
- 1/2 pint sour cream

Dissolve the one package raspberry gelatin in the cup hot water. Stir until completely dissolved. Stir in the half cup cold water and set aside to thicken. Drain the can cranberry sauce and add to the thickened gelatin along with the half pint sour cream. Blend well.

An easy way to chill and serve this mold is to pour it into a square cake pan. When ready to serve simply cut in squares, place on a bed of lettuce and top with a dollop of sour cream or mayonnaise. NOTE: You may reserve a little of the cranberry juice you drained from the sauce and add that to the mayonnaise for color and flavor.

This makes a large salad, serves 8 to 10.

THIS NEXT MOLD is most suitable for Thanksgiving. A basic lemon gelatin with apples, celery and nuts adding texture and color.

MOLDED WALDORF SALAD

- 1 package lemon gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped
- 1 cup unpeeled, red apple, chopped
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts

Combine the package lemon gelatin with the cup boiling water. Stir until completely dissolved. Allow to cool. Then add the half teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup lemon juice and one cup evaporated milk, mix well and set in refrigerator to thicken slightly. Then add the half cup chopped celery, one cup unpeeled red apple chunks, and the fourth cup nuts. Pour into individual molds and chill until firmly set.

Unmold onto lettuce leaves, top with mayonnaise to which you add a bit of maraschino juice. Serves six.

An attractive and delicious way to serve vegetables is to cook peas, carrots and broccoli separately, and serve with a rich cream sauce.

CREAMED VEGETABLE TRIO

- 1 package each frozen peas, carrots and whole broccoli, cook separately, then arrange attractively on a large platter. Cover with this sauce.

BASIC WHITE SAUCE

- 3 Tablespoons butter
- 3 Tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- dash of pepper

In a saucepan melt the three tablespoons butter over low heat. Add the three tablespoons flour, half teaspoon salt and pepper. Stir until smooth. Gradually stir in the one and one-half cups milk, stirring constantly, continue stirring and cooking until sauce is smooth and thick. Pour over vegetables and sprinkle a bit of paprika over top for color.

NOTE: You may prepare the white sauce ahead and keep it warm over hot water in a double boiler. But don't cook the vegetables until the last minute.

PUMPKIN PIE for Thanksgiving? Of course. But how about making it differently this year? A smooth chiffon type pie.

PUMPKIN FLUFF PIE

- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 3 slightly beaten egg yolks
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 1/4 cups canned pumpkin
- 3 egg whites
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 9-inch corn-flake crust

In saucepan, combine the three-fourths cup brown sugar, one envelope gelatin, half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cinnamon, half teaspoon nutmeg and fourth teaspoon ginger. Combine the three beaten egg yolks and three-fourths cup milk; stir into brown sugar mixture. Cook and stir until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat, stir in the one and one-fourths cups canned pumpkin. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when spooned. (Test every now and then — don't let mixture get too stiff.) Beat the three egg whites until soft peaks form, gradually add the third cup granulated sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold Pumpkin mixture into egg whites. Turn into cooled pie shell.

CORN FLAKE CRUST

- 1 cup packaged corn-flake crumbs
- or 4 cups corn flakes, coarsely crushed
- 2 Tablespoons sugar
- 2 Tablespoons finely chopped walnuts
- 1-third cup butter, melted

Combine the cup of crumbs, two tablespoons each sugar and walnuts and the one-third cup melted butter. Press firmly in a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in 375-degree oven about 8 minutes or until edge is slightly browned. Cool.

YWCA's Widget World Nursery Has Openings

The YWCA-sponsored Widget World Nursery School is accepting children in its revised program.

With the addition of the California Department of Social Welfare license, the school has added facilities as well as revised the basic structure of its program.

There are sessions on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday mornings for children two years, 9 months through six years of age.

Classes are run on a continuous basis throughout the school year with the same holidays and vacation schedules as regular public schools.

Nursery school serves as an excellent opportunity for children to learn to express themselves, get along with other children and enlarge their limited scope of activities. Through the various projects and activities of the nursery program, a child can experiment with materials not always found in their homes.

Through group activities, children learn to share and create together in a supervised environment. They can add words and phrases to their vocabulary through the music and story sessions as well as learning rhythm and verse. If you are interested in enrolling your child in nursery school call the office of the YWCA for details and instructions.

Parents of prospective enrollees as well as parents of children already attending school participated in the regular meeting of the Parents' Association November 13 at the Westlake Lutheran Church.

Two films — "Terrible Twos and Trusting Threes" and "Frustrating Fours and Fascinating Fives" were shown.

A Coastside Home For Justwed Pair

An arrangement of fall flowers banked the altar of the Calvary Cross Community Church in Daly City on Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Linda Klein and James Simpson.

The Rev. Donald Sheley read the vows for the 3 p.m. ceremony which was followed by a reception in Pershing Hall in Daly City. The party was hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Klein of Half Moon Bay.

Linda, who walked to the altar with her father, wore an Empire gown of white lace with a Victorian bodice accented with a white satin bow at the natural waistline in back. Her round bouquet was composed of fall flowers which were repeated in her attendants' bouquets.

Mrs. Michael Mulderick preceded her sister to the altar as matron of honor in a coral Empire gown with elbow-length sleeves and lace at the neckline and sleeves. The similarly-gowned bridesmaids were Darlene Sare and Priscilla Noffsinger.

Artist Works On Display At Hospital

Currently on display at the Peninsula Hospital and Medical Center are the works of Virginia Bell of San Bruno and Mrs. Bradley Brownson of Hillsborough.

The paintings will be on display through December 31 and escort service may be arranged by contacting the information desk at the hospital. All art exhibits are arranged by Mrs. Vincent McNally, chairman of art in public areas, and proceeds from sales of paintings are used in purchasing needed equipment for the hospital.

Mrs. Bell, who has studied with local artists, Chris Grogren, Joseph Pederson, and Betty Marcuseum, does oils and stone mosaics. Two of her oils have won awards in the San Bruno Art Show. Her unusual rock mosaics feature material gathered from beaches between here and Oregon and range from some semi-precious agate, jasper and jade to those valuable only for their color. None are tumbled or otherwise prepared but are used exactly as found.

Bruno, C-C's Yule Party On Saturday

Christmas is just around the corner. In fact, the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce will celebrate the opening of the season by holding its Christmas Party Saturday, at the Hilton Inn. The event is open to the public.

Traditionally, businessmen begin the Christmas season the day after Thanksgiving with street decorations, colorful lights, and opening nights and Sundays.

Because most merchants will be working nights during the holidays, this Saturday was the day chosen to hold "Christmas Casino."

"This is our party, which we want to share with our customers and other friends' Chamber Special Events Chairman Tom Palmer said. "We have collected almost $2,000 in retail awards."

Nancy Ann Salas and Douglas Dorfmeier announced their engagement at a recent dinner party at the home of the future bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Austin J. Christy of St. Helena. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Salas of South San Francisco and a graduate of South San Francisco High School. An alumnus of Clovis High School, Douglas now is a student at the College of Marin. They will be married January 24 in All Souls Catholic Church in South San Francisco.

D.C. Pre-School Program Slated

Next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. the P-TA meeting at Woodrow Wilson School will concern itself with the Pre-School program as it is presented to our 3-5 year old children. Now in its fourth year of operation, preschool guidance is given to 75 children throughout the Daly City area. Involvement of the parent is encouraged in order to follow up the classroom experience. Over 300 children have been served to date. House at Margaret Pauline Brown School, expansion of the Pre-School program would be ideal, especially in the Crocker and Woodrow Wilson Schools neighborhoods. This expansion would mean more active involvement of mother in the program which has helped so many children.

Yosemite Sojourn For Justwed Pair

Honeymooning in Yosemite and Southern California are Mr. and Mrs. Craig Deasy who were married on November 8 at St. Robert's Church in San Bruno.

The bride is the former Jo Ann Moos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moos of San Bruno who hosted the wedding reception at the El Rancho Restaurant in Millbrae.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums banked the altar of the church for the ceremony conducted by the Rev. Richard Fry. White stock and bows marked the aisle pews.

As Jo Ann and her father approached the altar, she was wearing a classic gown of ivory peau de soie and lace. The Empire bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline and long tapered sleeves applied with Alencon lace. The lace was repeated throughout the A-line skirt which cascaded into a lace-bordered train.

A Camelot headpiece of matching lace caught Jo Ann's illusion veil. She carried white roses, orchids, and stephanotis.

For traveling, the new matron changed to a blue wool jacket costume.

Jacqueline Moos was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Arlene Musso and Ida Berces. They were gowned alike in celadon green and aqua brocade dresses with sleeveless Empire bodices with cameo necklines. The softly-draped floor length skirts were finished with tailored bows and streamers. The three attendants carried tropicana roses and bachelor buttons.

Mrs. Moos took her place in the family pew in a brown French lace dress interwoven with white lace. She added a crown lei flown in from Hawaii for the occasion. Mrs. Marjorie Deasy, mother of the bridegroom, wore white wool with a gold orchid.

Raymond Gilmore was best man, and ushering duties were shared by Rodney Moos, brother of the bride, and Robert Agimonti.

Among the guests were Jo Ann's grandfather, Anthony Abreu of Hawaii; her aunt, Mrs. Omer Darr; and her great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ahlstrom.

The new matron was graduated from Mercy High School and the University of San Francisco and is a medical technologist at Sequoia Hospital.

Craig was graduated from Lincoln High School and City College of San Francisco and is enrolled in Computer Graphics College. He has one brother, John G. Deasy of San Francisco.

San Bruno Chamber Directors Revealed By Mayor

San Bruno Mayor Neil Christal has announced the results of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce 1970-71 Board of Directors election.

"It was a close count and the ballot committee consisting of Lou Amroff and Al Cloud and I had a difficult time tabulating all the chamber members' ballots," Mayor Christal said.

Elected to the 1970-71 board of directors, in alphabetical order: Art Basmajian, Art's Peninsula Locksmith; Harry Costa, Custom Office Supply; Jim Faverman, Key Pharmacy; Joseph Galligan, attorney; Jim Holderby, the Bank of California; Josh Maule III, Maule's Rexall Drugs; Juan Mir, American Airlines; Roger Reeve, San

Bruno Herald-Recorder; Progress; Florin Rhoads; Rhoads Hardware; Robert Wilson, Crocker-Citizens Bank. The new directors will take office January, 1970, and will serve two years. The 1969-70 board of directors will remain the same: Ken Chapman, Chapman's Youth Fashion; Gene Gallagher, San breakfast meeting, the board of directors accepted Bruce Pennrich, Thrifty Drug Store, and Alfred Ansara, Sr., Kramer's Restaurant as new members of the chamber of commerce, bringing the total membership to 207. The board of directors also heard that advance ticket sales to Christmas Casino, November

22, at the Hilton Hotel, have been good; a report on the 1970 official San Bruno business directory, which will be published in December; and decided to explore the idea of holding a golf tournament, tentatively titled "The Airport City Open," to be held on May 18 as part of "Aviation Appreciation Week."

'Whiz Kids' In Contest

Westmoor's math "whiz kids" and James Potts, their advisor, will journey to the University of Santa Clara on November 22 to compete in the Twelfth Annual Santa Clara Math Contest.

Rick Giusti, student body president, who took first ranking in the junior division of the competition last year, will head a team which includes fellow seniors David Clyne and Justin Rehfeld, as well as sophomore Eric Bogatin.

The contest is made up of a three-hour exam composed of seven assorted math problems. Points are not only awarded for correct solutions, but also for the way in which the problem is presented.

DIDJA KNOW that newly installed Daly City Colma Chamber president Don Halverson isn't from Daly City or Colma? He's a resident of Pacifica and works for PG&E in Daly City. Now that you know, do you care? We thought not.

SICK CALL — Dr. Robert Watt, principal at Oceana High hospitalized at Peninsula Hospital... Tommy Giamonna, seven-year-old son of Daly City councilman Tony Giamonna, recuperating at home after being hit and injured by a passing car... Ditto officers Jim McHenry after involved in a major car crash, and Tom Culley after battling (and losing) to the nasty flubug.

JUST HEARD that John Wuerthner, has resigned his post with Colonial Savings, effective last Friday. Something else in the wind Wuerthner hints, but he's not saying what it is.

A THOUSAND PARDONS to realtor Jack Cooper who is ALSO a member of the San Francisco Real Estate Board. We said Tony Zidich (of Harrington Realty) had that sole honor, but have since learned that Jack has been a member for years.

SEVEN YEAR ITCH — After seven long years the Chamber of Commerce team of U. R. "Jack" Kendree and Joe Rohl have finally announced they have found a suitable site for a "welcome" sign where each civic organization may hang their shingle. Through the years the team has searched far and wide for the perfect spot and last week made their decision public. Located at the southwest corner of the new Dunn-Edwards paint company on Junipero Serra Boulevard, the sign will cost the chamber $1,500. But their job isn't over... yet! They have been commissioned by the board to find two other sign sites.

A TOTAL OF EIGHT FIREMEN have left the Daly City department since we first said they would about six months ago. The latest loss to San Francisco includes Al Markel, Garry Curto, Nick Iacchi and Jimmy Langwell.

DALY CITY FATHERS talking about setting up some place for kids to go to get factual info on narcotics. Mayor Bud Lycett explained the problem to a recent meeting of businessmen and said kids steer away from police departments and parents. For this reason a "middle ground" for getting pertinent information on the subject should be looked into, he said.

GARDEN PATH — Chamber director Jim Sagen told his fellow C of C directors last Thursday that Daly City has been led down the Garden Path on the subject of a county service building for the past three years. "They never intended to build (a service building) in Daly City," says Sagen.

SAN BRUNO PRISON is scheduled to be visited by a contingent of newsmen, city and county officials today. Sheriff Matthew Carberry will escort the party through the controversial building.

ON THE SUBJECT of the prison, it wasn't too long ago that San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto flatly stated he "wouldn't be a party" to any railroad job to oust Carberry from the jail. Instead, Alioto seems to be going along with a move to oust the jail from Carberry by setting up a new department to take over responsibility.

FORMER DALY CITY manager Edward Frank and wife have left the city for Petaluma where they will make their home. He is still expected to consult with the city on certain matters.

BRISBANE CITY POLICE are sporting new shoulder emblems that read, "For God and my county" over an American flag. The patriotic patches have worked wonders in lifting the force's spirits, one officer said.

JULIUS CASTELLAN won appointment to the EOC Board as a rep of Daly City by a 40-1 margin. Who the holdout was is a big secret, according to the North County's most active senior citizen P. S. He also was appointed to the newly formed County Senior Citizens' Committee by Supervisor Robert St. Clair.

SENIOR CITIZENS, ATTENTION! — Every Monday through Friday, there's plenty of action for you at the Lincoln Park Clubhouse between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Give it a try.

'Gasbag' May Be The Answer

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Chances are motorists will soon be seeing an increasing number of "gasbags" standing on the side of the nation's highways clutching in the embarrassed hands of fellow drivers who thoughtlessly have run out of gasoline.

The "gasbag" is an invention of a San Bruno manufacturing firm called "GAS," which appropriately stands for General Assistance Systems.

Officials of GAS are located in the North County and include San Bruno mayor Neil Cristal, Ken Gillespie and Dick Hadsall of San Bruno and Tom House of Daly City.

The officials confess that at one time or another they have all suffered internal pain from gas and red faces from being out of gas. The latter usually occurs when they are en route to a civic function attired in their Sunday best.

There is nothing to compare, as any motorist who has suffered the slings and arrows of an outrageous wife will tell you, with being stranded on the side of a freeway as one car after another breezes past.

And all the motorist wants is a pocketful of gas. He'd probably pay someone handsomely for it, too!

If all goes according to history, a Good Samaritan will stop to assist and both the embarrassed driver and GS will find they have no way to get the petrol from one car to another.

Gasbag is the answer, Dear Motorist.

The gasbag is a flat, pear-shaped, vinyl bag designed with six feet of clear plastic tubing attached to the top end (cost $2.95 plus 25 cents postage).

A stranded driver simply forces a smile, stands on the side of the road and holds aloft his Gasbag and a sign which proclaims "Need Gas! ... I have the Gasbag."

This strategy will supposedly attract all sorts of attention and other motorists will stop and offer aid immediately.

When this happens, the proud Gasbagger rolls up his bag, inserts the tube into the other vehicle's gastank (hopefully the other driver has gasoline) and allows it to unroll itself on the ground—while sucking in a gallon of gas.

Once full, the Gasbag is laid on the top of the out-of-gas car, the tube inserted in the tank and the process reversed.

Happily, the motorist drives off in search (it is assumed) of a gas station, still neat and tidy in his unruffled clothing.

Its promoters say the motorist will be spared long, lonely walks to a service station or phone and will also be anxious-free, inasmuch as he will not have to leave his family unattended in the car miles from anyplace.

Of course, if a black and white car with a red light and siren stops near an out-of-gas car it probably won't be to donate a gallon of gas — it will likely be to write the driver a $5 citation for running out of gas.

HAVE GAS BAG, CAN'T TRAVEL—The latest in invention of a group of North County businessmen, the Gasbag promises to become a popular item among motorists.

Time-Worn Racket

TWO TIME-WORN, short-changing rackets are being used by some clerks in San Mateo County only because the public is not sufficiently aware of them. Most customers do not detect a small overcharge when shopping and, when they do, they accept the apologetic explanation of the clerk "it was a mistake."

Number One Device: Two customers are in a grocery line. The first customer has three small items which amount to 79 cents in value. The clerk strikes only the sub-total key, announces the amount from the cash register window and places the customer's money in the drawer.

She does not remove the tape from the register or give it to the customer. The sub-total which appeared in the window is not printed on the tape.

The clerk then proceeds to add up the three purchases of the next customer to the items already accumulated on the tape and in the register. If challenged by the customer, the clerk may immediately and apologetically correct the tape with pen and ink.

HOW CAN YOU, the customer, protect yourself? Always check the contents of the cart ahead of you. If it contains a few items, watch as a small amount can be added to your bill without much risk of arousing suspicion. Be alert if the previous customer pays an amount which carries only the label "sub-total" in the cash register window and leaves without demanding the tape. No matter how small a purchase is made, always ask for your tape and be sure that it carries a "grand total."

This will protect the person behind you if nothing more. Report all overcharges to the store management or the Better Business Bureau. If you are self-conscious about creating a scene in the store, phone the store management immediately upon reaching your home.

Number Two Device: The customer gives the clerk a $20 bill for a $6.49 purchase. The clerk places the $20 bill in the compartment of the register used for twenties and proceeds to count out change for a $10 bill.

If attention is drawn to this by the customer the clerk may attempt to argue even though the bill is supposed to be always placed on the left side of the register until proper change has been made.

PROTECT YOURSELF by staying alert when presenting a bill in excess of a dollar. Watch for fraud when a clerk makes change without leaving the bill on the left of the register until proper change is made. Report all overcharges to the store management or the Better Business Bureau. An enlightened store management invites the public to help in the detection of dishonest clerks.

There are many other frauds such as the can of coffee left all day long on the check counter and added to each customer's tape unless challenged. The most common overcharge is the addition of one to three cents to each "produce purchase." Few customers are able to calculate to the penny the amount due on an item which weighs just over 3 1/2 pounds and is priced six pounds for 59 cents.

Thanksgiving Picnic

"Oh! On Thanksgiving day, when from East and from West, from North and South, come the Pilgrim and guest... What moistens the lip and what brightens the eye? What calls back the past like the rich Pumpkin pie?"

Why not have a different kind of Thanksgiving?

Perhaps a Thanksgiving day picnic. For several years Sunset Magazine has been receiving enthusiastic reports from its readers telling how they use Thanksgiving day for a picnic; some with the traditional meal and some without.

So, on Thanksgiving day 1968, the editors of Sunset tried "it" and discovered what a delightful, restful, meaningful day this holiday becomes in a setting more akin to that of the original feast the Pilgrims shared."

THEY LEARNED that their children relished the comfort of casual clothes and the freedom to romp and roam while working up astonishing appetites. The adults appreciated the lack of kitchen congestion and the worry over spills and cleanup. "All this meant greater relaxation for everyone."

An investigation showed that the chances for fair weather on Thanksgiving day are good enough. The Weather Bureau reports that only two of the last ten Thanksgivings in the San Francisco Bay Area have been rainy days.

To help its readers plan a successful Thanksgiving day picnic, Sunset Magazine published in its November 1968 issue a list of picnic places along with other helpful suggestions.

For a menu, the editors recommend a transportable Thanksgiving dinner featuring turkey and all the trimmings.

If, however, you wish to stay home for Thanksgiving, but want a change for the traditional meal, try a buffet. The editors of Sunset Magazine write that a buffet allows the meal to proceed at a relaxed pace without the diners being interrupted to pass dishes at the table.

TO HELP PLAN a buffet, the editors include in the November 1967 issue a menu for a Thanksgiving day buffet with recipes and helpful suggestions. Included are recipes for barbecue-roasted turkey, fresh cranberry ice, pecan topped sweet potatoes, buttered green beans and onions, avocado fruit salad and lime salad dressing.

Page 152 of the November 1967 issue of Sunset Magazine features four variations on Thanksgiving's finale — pumpkin pie. The four vary widely. They are pumpkin ice cream pie, pumpkin crumb-topped custard, to pumpkin chifon pie with ginger cookie crumb crust, and pumpkin cheese pie with graham cracker crumb crust.

The editors of Sunset report that most people consider certain favorite Thanksgiving day dishes unchangeable, but welcome them prepared and served in other than the most traditional manner. With this in mind each November issue is largely devoted to discussions of various Thanksgiving day dinners — Recipes are always included.

The issues of Sunset Magazine may be obtained from a public library. Most public libraries loan all periodicals except the latest issue.

Letters to the Editor

Board Pay

Editor, The Post:

It is with great concern that I read that the Laguna Salada Board of Trustees Chairman Stanley Farber has: "asked the school administration to prepare a resolution requesting the legislature allow for pay for school board members."

I feel that this money to pay school board members, regardless where it comes from, could be put to a better use, such as improving our teacher's salaries; we do need to keep our talented educators in our district and the only way to do it is offering them a decent salary.

Also, Mr. Farber seems to forget that he asked for this position on the Board of Trustees. I believe that the prestige that goes with the office is more than enough reward for the time and the effort put into being a Board Member.

If this position is too much of a burden for Mr. Farber to carry, he can always RESIGN; there are enough competent persons in our district that would be glad to take over the duties as a board member, and very happy to donate their time and efforts for the improvement of our schools and community.

MARCO T. DIMAS, Pacifica

'Ignored'

Editor, The Post:

After witnessing Monday night's (October 20), council meeting, where the wishes of the citizens were completely ignored, one must reach one of two conclusions.

Councilmen Mammini, Rocca and Steinkamp either: (1) Feel there are no qualified men in the police department capable of being chief, or (2) They have some one from outside the department in mind for the job. I believe number two to be the most valid.

Drug Abuse!

The teen-age drug abuse problem has reached such staggering proportions that thousands of youth are sending out "SOS" messages.

But the age old distress signal of the sea — Save Our Souls — does not relate to these messages.

It means Stamp Out Stupidity!

And that's exactly what more than 100,000 school-aged boys and girls throughout the nation are attempting to do through a new group called "Smart Set International."

Speaking to the Daly City-Colma Host Lions Club at Toto's restaurant Wednesday, San Mateo Sheriff's Department Sgt. Ralston Eng and Serramonte High School nurse Ann Armstrong outlined the teen program that is sweeping the state and starting to catch on in every corner of the country.

The program is made up of teens, run by teens and depends solely on teens without any interference from the adult world.

'Stamp Out Stupidity'

Law enforcement agencies, are sometimes called upon to attend meetings of the Smart Set, but over-all, adults are not wanted.

Smart Set International works something like Alcoholics Anonymous — only with kids talking to kids.

The movement started in Los Angeles three years ago with the blessing of authorities there, and has spread as far north as San Mateo, where a new charter was issued Wednesday.

What has astounded many persons is the popularity of the program.

For $5, Smart Set International Taft Building, Hollywood, 90028 will send a person a kit containing facts, figures, and visual aids on the dangers of drugs. The organization also makes available other aids at nominal charges.

Monies received from the sale of the items keeps the project moving, however, outside donations (from the adult world) are also solicited, Sheriff Eng explained.

There has been some criticism of the program, it was pointed out.

"Smart Set International may make some kids aware of drugs and stimulate their interest in trying them out," is one common complaint of opponents.

But there has never been any proof of this, according to its supporters.

On the other hand, in Los Angeles schools where it has been field tested, drug abuse incidents have declined, in some cases considerably.

The goal of the organization is to get every student in every high school in every corner of the country interested enough to attend meetings.

Eng, who started the San Mateo city chapter of the group this week, said teens will talk with other teens while they might hesitate to discuss their problem with either police or parents.

Eng is appearing at every civic function he can in order to publicize the program and urge adults to cooperate — and help — financially in getting it off the ground in their communities.

Posters, bumper strips and even a ten minute color film, entitled "Pot is a put on," is available for public use.

There is also a booklet aimed at educating parents on narcotics and how to combat its use.

Biggest foe of the fight against drug abuse is the misinformation that is disseminated, rather than hard facts and intelligent information.

Eng said that juvenile arrests (age to 18 years) in the county have increased by 591 per cent in the past two years.

"Score tactics" haven't worked in bringing this figure down and the crisis is "reaching epidemic proportions" Eng said.

Unless the disease is curbed — soon — it will effect everyone, including family and friends, Eng noted. —F.L.P.

Cattle Baron Special "Buy 3 Get 1 Free"

Follow the searchlights to the Cattle Baron November 19 through November 23 and get in on the sensational "Buy 3 — get one free" offer. Enjoy your choice of a Ranch House Roast Beef, Ham or Barbecued Beef sandwich for only 79 cents. The offer is good at the Cattle Baron in San Mateo or Santa Clara. . . . You have to be proud of Sheriff Earl Whitmore: Invitations for a recent dinner party at Oreste's restaurant read, "Black Tie." Our Earl, who had overlooked the fine print, arrived in a day-time suit and stood out like a jogger in zero weather. In a flash, Sheriff Whitmore darted out, rented a tux, and was his usual suave self in a matter of minutes. . . . Tony is back at Augie's on Third Avenue! After a siege in the hospital, the master chef and creator of Augie's family-style dinners is happy to be back at his familiar post in the culinary department. . . . Tommy Harris is preparing for a big Thanksgiving Day dinner crowd at Tommy's Joyn. He'll have, of course, a great big turkey dinner ready for the crowds. Also many other dishes such as baked ham, and a great variety of liquid joys.

Make reservations now for Thanksgiving dining at Yolanda's Terminal Cafe. Manager Chuck "Slim" Winstead has flown in a special order of Virginia hams, cured to his specifications, and ordered a truck load of plump turkeys. And that's not all — prize beef is on the festive agenda, too. You may enjoy all three entrees at Yolanda's "all you can eat" South San Francisco restaurant. . . . Sil Oliva's Exposition Fish Grotto at Fisherman's Wharf is fast becoming a favorite late-evening dining spot for audiences that have just seen "Oh! Calcutta!" Just the other evening, reports Augie Rosasco, there was a large group from Calistoga. They enjoyed some of the fine fish dishes which are prepared under the direction of award-winning chef Art Davis. . . . Dimitri Antipov, general manager of Marriott Inn at Belmont, is justly proud of his hotel staff's efficiency and speed. During a convention of the National Cash Register Company, last week, his staff cleared up the British Isles Suite after a 200-person luncheon, and reassembled the suite into three individual meeting rooms, while the conventioners enjoyed a 15-minute break.

Personable piano stylist Bob Lucas, at the Shirt Tail in Palo Alto, studied journalism in college, but elected to seek his fortune in music. He has written several songs, made recordings and is working on a musical. The enterprising young performer is a piano salesman during the day. . . . Actress Lucille Ball dropped by Finocchio's with a party of friends after attending a performance of the San Francisco Film Festival. On the way out, she stopped to sign autographs.

Good weather comes and goes, throughout the Bay Area, yet people never tire of driving down the Coast Highway One to eat at Frank Torres', located in picturesque Montara. To savor Frank and Fanny Torres' outstanding Peruvian dishes, they drive through hail, sleet and . . . no snow. . . . If you're looking for a fun-filled weekend, the place for good times is North Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club, where Donna Lee, along with drummer Rudy Taluchi entertain with a variety of music that's great for listening or dancing. Dining is excellent in the Crystal dining room, and there are two cocktail lounges, with reduced prices during the Happy Hour. The Las Vegas Desert Inn's musical spectacular, "Pazz '70," currently playing in the hotel's Crystal Room, continues to smash all previous attendance marks for the plush desert-resort hostelry. Over 18,000 colorful lights coruscate across the giant 90-foot stage in the opening production, "Las Vegas Today." . . . A delegation of V.I.P.'s from Washington, D.C. held a dinner party at Lew Lehn's Steak House, in San Francisco's Marina District, hosted by prominent San Francisco attorneys Kamini and Ruth Church Gupta.

Thanksgiving Day will not be a "turkey" in Lucien Sabella's Capri Room. His A. Sabella's restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf enjoys a lucrative business at all times, and every Holiday is like New Year's Eve. . . . Fred and Jerry Rapp have preparations under way at their luxurious Holiday Inn in South San Francisco to insure the finest in Thanksgiving festivities for their guests. Their restaurants at Town and Country Village and the Flamingo in Palo Alto are readying for Big Game Weekend. The Flamingo is a natural rendezvous because it is open 24 hours for late-evening snacks. . . . Here is another reminder: Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant serves hors d'oeuvres nightly (from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.) in the lounge. Real treat — makes the cocktail hours happy ones. . . . Phil Lehn's Steakery in downtown San Francisco is a favorite of many Peninsula on a night out in the "City." San Bruno Title

Crestmoor Loses To Cap

By MIKE DEIMLING
Post Correspondent

The sometimes violent Capuchino Mustangs, the early season favorites to win the Mid Peninsula League football crown, received a settlement for somewhat less Friday afternoon.

Coach Vince Marchi's grid-ders up-ended winless Crestmoor, 22-0, to capture the mythical championship of San Bruno.

Crestmoor's first bad turn was to lose the coin toss. Cap elected to receive and ran back to Crestmoor's 39-yard line. Keith Hernandez tossed two quick passes to bring the Tang's within 6 yards of paydirt and on the next play Jeff Callicotte busted over the goal line for the score.

Cap kicked to Crestmoor who returned the ball only to the 25. On Crestmoor's first offensive play of the game, they fumbled with Cap recovering. Cap then marched 25 yards in four plays for their second score.

For all practical purposes, the game was over. With eight minutes to play in the first quarter Cap had scored sufficiently enough to coast the rest of the game. The Falcons got no farther than eight yards on any of offensive series.

For the game, Crestmoor had three first downs, two of which came on penalties of 15 yards. The other Falcon first came with nine seconds left in the game when Falcon quarterback Jim Jarvis sneaked in a 27 yard toss.

The Falcons gained eight yards on the ground for the game and only 38 total yardage.

The failure of Crestmoor to do anything offensively was largely due to the aggressive play of the Capuchino defense. The Tangs were hungry for a victory having lost their last two outings and wanted to make up for their failures at the expense of the Falcons.

The Cap offense was in fine form yesterday. Keith Hernandez threw for 11 completes in just 20 tries. Cap's running backs ran for 155 yard.

A city championship with Crestmoor as the only other contender may not mean much, but it is the best Cap could do this season.

The fall slow-pitch softball league will come to a close in Pacifica Thursday at 7 p.m. Teams included in the play-offs include 2901 Club, Romano's, Crespi Shell, and the Park Pacifica Pacers.

Skyline, Abe Lincoln Units Pick Up Wins

The Daly City Recreation, Park and Maintenance Department sponsored Playground sixth grade Flag Football League concluded its fifth week of league play as all important wins were picked up by Abraham Lincoln School, Skyline School, Westmoor Park, and Robertson School.

The "pigskin" powers from Westmoor Park clinched at least a tie for their division title as they steamrolled passed a rugged Daniel Webster School crew, 20-6, while the Robertson School Mets kept their division title hopes alive by squeaking past a very fine Crocker School team 16-12.

In other action, A. Lincoln School nipped M. P. Brown School 22-18. Skyline School edged F.D.R. School 12-6. Crocker School rolled by Panorama School 32-6. D. Webster School tripped up F.D.R. School 12-8. Westmoor Park trounced M.P. Brown School 24-6, and A. Lincoln School shut out Skyline School 6-0.

Thanksgiving Events At Playgrounds

The Daly City Recreation Department announced a week of special Thanksgiving activities, November 17-November 22.

All City playgrounds will conduct a week of contests and tournaments including table games and athletic events.

Participating children will represent either the Pilgrims or the Indians.

Individual contest winners will receive official certificates and all members of the winning team will receive ribbons.

Festive activities will culminate on November 22, when all winners will be announced. Children should contact the local playground leaders for details.

Club First Cabin Wins

The Club First Cabin, a softball team made up of Daly City and Broadmoor policemen, which placed second in the Daly City Recreation Department's Adult Softball League, won the Burlingame loop last week.

The team, sponsored by Neil Moorehouse, owner of the First Cabin in Colma, had a 9-3 won-lost record in Burlingame play.

They gained the championship following their sweep of a double header against "Brand X," 6-3 and 8-7, on the pitching arm, both games, of Tom Reese, who has a notable "fuzz ball."

MEETING SET
The next regular meeting of the South San Francisco Recreation Commission will be held Thursday at City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Flyers End The Season With Defeat

The Daly City Flyers concluded their season with a loss to the Sunnyvale Rockets 20-6.

The Flyers scored first in the second quarter on a run by Robby Baptist. Point after touchdown failed. In the same quarter the Rockets scored on a 40 yard run. Point after touch down failed. The score was tied at halftime and remained tied until the fourth quarter when the Rockets managed to break down the Flyers defense and score two touchdowns. Both point after touchdowns were good.

The Flyers fifth quarter team lost, 13-0. The Flyers record for the year is six wins, 4 losses, one tie.

Head Coach Jim Bird and his coaching staff, defensive coach Frank Gallagher, Dave Horowitz, and Jim Healy and trainer Ray Mallando were pleased with this record, since this is only the Flyers' second year in Pop Warner Football.

Coast Hoop Loop Starts

The 1969 Fall Adult Basketball League, sponsored by the Park, Beach and Recreation Department, gets under way on Tuesday night at the Oceana Gym.

Games will be played at 7, 8 and 9 p.m. every Tuesday night from now until the middle of March.

Rams' '110,' '120' Cagers Cop Crowns

Westmoor High's "110" lightweight cagers have captured the N.P.L. basketball title for the second consecutive season, while their colleagues the "120's" achieved co-championship with the Jefferson Indians, as the Ram dribblers duffed Serramonte, November 12 by scores of 37-23, and 57-31 respectively.

Coach Byron Van Alstyne's "110s" (or D's) tromped over the Regents under the 14-point effort of center, Jerry Mitchell, who also snared 15 big rebounds. Next highest scorer was team leader, Bob Fidler, with 8, who this season had established a 10-point per game average. Also contributing to the 110's 11-1 record this year have been Louie Medrano, and Jerry Stoller, who throughout the season have displayed fantastic amounts of hustle plus great ball handling. Helping center, Jerry Mitchell under the boards has been Chris Mallos whose great jumping ability has been a big plus for the Ram cause.

Losing at half-time, by a score of 21-20, the Westmoor C's (120's) came back to bury the Serramonte Lights 57-31. Again the Rams were led in many games past, by Ted Grey, who after a slow start in the first half contributed a 16 point performance. The average points-per-game for this potential all-leaguer, are 14.3.

Also in the 16 point column was Rory Pobilitz displaying fine outside shooting and good hustle under the boards as he captured a total of 12 rebounds.

Also contributing to the C's 10-2 win-loss record were Jim Wyatt, a much improved player from last year who has helped in every department of shooting, rebounding and hustling; Steve Peters, the Ram center.

Rich had proposed plans to raise money for the trips by bringing donated goods such as old radios, old useable clothes and other such items to the November 8, 9, weekend session of the Flea Market at the Cow Palace. The officers of the club felt that the prosaic car wash type of fund raising was not effective enough for the club needs.

Meeting Day Is Changed

The San Bruno Park and Recreation Commission has cancelled its meeting planned for Thanksgiving evening.

A special meeting will be held on the following Wednesday - December 3 - at 8 p.m. in the Conference Room of City Hall.

Kelly O'Neil, Dom Polillo Win 'Well's'

Tackling the wind swept fairways of Sharp Park Golf course November 11, Westmoor student Kelly O'Neil, fired a one-under-par 71, to take first in the Gross Division of Westmoor's first annual "Well's Winter Golf Classic."

Out of the over 20 students and faculty members participating in the tournament, counselor Dominick Polillo and senior Steve Mazza found themselves in a deadlock for first place in the net division. After the four hour plus contest, both finished with 69's.

To break the tie a putting contest was held, where on the second hole Polillo eased in a two foot "snake" to win the play-off and pocket first prize.

According to tournament directors Rob O'Neil, Dan Kunst, and math teachers Donald Keifer and Hugh Wells, the get-together seemed to be a "total success, for both students and faculty."

Plans are now being made to hold a second such tournament during the Easter vacation period.

Pacifica Rec Seeks Coach

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department is accepting applications for the position of swim team coach.

The position will involve working with and coaching the team during its ten month session. Fall, winter, spring practices are held in the evenings and summer practices are held in the morning and evening.

General qualifications for applicants are possession of a Water Safety Instructor Certificate and First Aid Certificate from the Red Cross, previous experience with swim team coaching and be at least 21 years of age.

TWO NORTH COUNTY STARS

Hall Of Fame Recognition

By JERRY LITTELL
Post Sports Writer

Brad Brian

Two North Peninsula League football stars were unanimously voted into the San Mateo County Chapter of the National Football Association Hall of Fame on Monday for heroes both in the classroom and on the gridiron.

Westmoor tackle Wally Klevesahal and South San Francisco quarterback Brad Brian were selected by a county-wide committee headed by El Camino High School principal Robert Keropian.

"The names submitted this year all deserved high recognition and praise for outstanding football talents and classroom work," Keropian stated. "In a contest such as this there are no losers. Each and every boy who was nominated by his school is a fine example of the high caliber of student-athlete existing in this county."

One scholastic requirement for nomination to the brains-and-brawn list was a grade-point-average of at least 3.0 (B) or better. Brian met this challenge easily as the senior quarterback, who also letters in baseball, has a 4.0 (straight-A) record throughout his high school career.

Brian, son of South S.F. baseball coach Bob Brian, is a member of the California Scholarship Federation, was his junior class president, a member of the Block Society, a student government representative and a Rotary Club student representative. SSF principal Tom Gaffney described Brian as an "excellent representative of his school as both an outstanding scholar and a standout athlete."

The 5-10, 175-pound thrower led the Warriors to second place in the NPL as he completed 53 per cent of his passes (53x108) and was regarded as one of the better running-qbs in the league. Klevesahal was the lone senior lineman on the Ram championship team and was the "steadying influence behind our line all year long," according to his coach, Pete Matisi.

The 6-2, 250-pound stalwart sorted a 3.15 GPA and was ranked in the top 20 per cent of his class. He is the Block W president at Westmoor.

The son of Walter and Esther Klevesahal of 1012 Nimitz Avenue, Daly City, has been a starting tackle for two years both on offense and defense and was the league's most valuable lineman. "He has the size, speed, strength and talent to be an excellent college football lineman," Matisi enthused.

The two San Mateo County representatives will be honored at a special awards banquet December 11 in San Francisco at the Jack Tar Hotel.

Wally Klevesahal

Lewis Top Back

Westmoor, South SF Dominate Star Team

North Peninsula League champion Westmoor and runner-up South San Francisco, as expected, completely dominated the 1969 All-NPL football team as selected by league coaches Monday afternoon.

The champion Rams, who won the league with a 6-0 record and had an 8-1 overall mark, placed five players on the first team offense including this year's Back of the Year, record-setting halfback Jim Lewis, and the Lineman of the Year, Hall of Fame nominee Wally Klevesahal. The Ram interior lineman also made first-team defense.

Half Moon Bay quarterback Jim Emery was chosen as the league's best signalcaller and also an all-star safety on defense. El Camino center Jim Tenerowicz, who anchored one of the stingiest defensive and block-cutting offensive lines on the Peninsula, was another two-way selection.

Lewis broke all NPL records for a seasonal rushing total as he ran for 1,290 yards in nine games. He was joined in the backfield by rushing-mate Al Lieske and South San Francisco's Leo Bernardini.

South City placed four on the offensive team including two-way choice Gary Ewalt, a repeat star selection. Only four of the seven league schools placed squad members on the first units.

The complete list and honorable mentions are on page 32.

Mayors Back County Revisions

Two city officials, one from Pacifica and the other from Menlo Park, urged the Board of Supervisors November 13 to follow a Grand Jury recommendation for submission to the electorate of proposed charter amendments to increase the size of the board and to have its members elected by district.

The Grand Jury has recommended that the membership of the Board of Supervisors be increased from five members to seven because of the heavy work load, and that each member be elected at large.

San Mateo County is one of three in the state whose supervisorial members are elected at large.

Enthusiastic support for the recommendations were expressed before the board by Nick Gust, mayor of Pacifica, and by James W. Calloway, vice-mayor of Menlo Park.

Gust, saying he was speaking as a private citizen and taxpayer, noted that the proposals had been brought up "time and time again" and urged the board to submit them to the electorate.

"I don't think any one of you hasn't felt you should be elected by district," Gust told the board, "until you are elected."

"Are you going to push this aside again, or are we going to let the people decide?"

"I don't think you five people should be sitting here as five gods when there are 550,000 people in the county.

If you don't give the people a chance to vote, I think you are wrong."

Calloway cited the increased duties of supervisors as reason enough to increase the board membership and "make it possible to get the job done."

He said that expense of waging an election campaign makes it desirable to have supervisors elected by district.

"There must be something wrong with our system when it costs as much to wage a campaign for supervisor as it does for congressman, and more to run for supervisor than for assemblyman," Calloway stated.

"I feel that the facts speak for themselves," he added. "In this respect we are behind the times in comparison with the rest of our state; let us bring our county up to date."

John D. Tuttle, chairman of the Grand Jury committee recommending submission of the charter amendments, said the proposals had been submitted to the board earlier than in the past because it was felt it would be more effective to have them considered while the Grand Jury was still organized.

The board ended up by referring the recommendations to County Manager M. D. Tarabes for analysis and recommendation.

Cadettes Hold Court

South San Francisco Cadette Troop 153 recently held a second Court of Awards. Presentations were made following the potluck dinner the Cadettes prepared and served.

The biggest event was the first Challenge presentation of the troop. The girls who worked for the social dependability challenge were LeAnn James, Deborah Osborn, Ellen Razzolini and Melody Hutcheson.

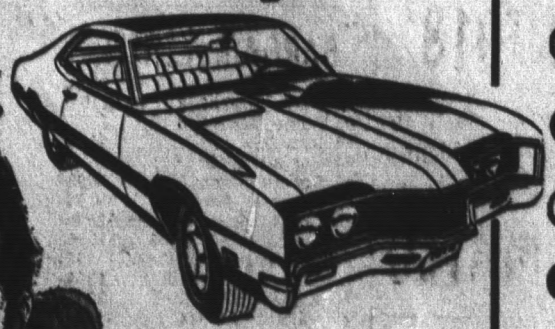

New Patrol leaders selected include Jill Atkinson, Sherri Revo, Melody Hutcheson and LeAnn James.

Cadette Leaders Mrs. Donald Miller and her assistant, Sue Towry welcomed Cynthia Thompson to the troop.

Police Find Hit-Run Car In Garage

A car found Friday night in a San Mateo garage during a stolen motorcycle chase has been identified as the vehicle involved in a fatal hit-run in Burlingame August 22.

Burlingame police have impounded the car, a 1956 Studebaker with two-tone blue paint that has been partly overpainted with black primer.

The right front fender and headlight, and the windshield, had been removed. These would have been damaged in the collision which killed Peter S. Langis, 44, San Francisco, in the 500 block of Bayshore Boulevard.

Langis was fatally injured, officers said, when his car stalled on Bayshore freeway and he climbed over the chain-link fence onto the frontage road just in time to step in front of a passing car.

Langis died two hours later at Peninsula Hospital.

Persons near the accident scene reported seeing a 1956 or 1957 Studebaker leaving the area, with a young man and a young woman in the car. The driver was described as a white male, with dark curly hair. The car was later felt to be a 1956 Studebaker.

During Friday night's chase, a San Mateo Officer, Kenneth Lindner, prowled through the area of West Santa Inez, looking for a motorcycle thief.

Instead, through a partly removed garage wall, at 4 West Santa Inez he spotted what appeared to be a 1956 Studebaker, coated with black primer paint. He noted the black paint had been sprayed "unprofessionally" over a light blue and dark blue paint job, and recalled that Burlingame had been looking for such a vehicle for months.

Officer Lindner informed Burlingame Officer Bruce Marshall, who agreed the vehicle looked suspect.

The next morning, Burlingame officers went to the address, and were told the car belonged to Enrique and Maria Serrato, whose whereabouts were said not to be known.

Taking the damaged right front fender and windshield, officers obtained a court order and impounded the car.

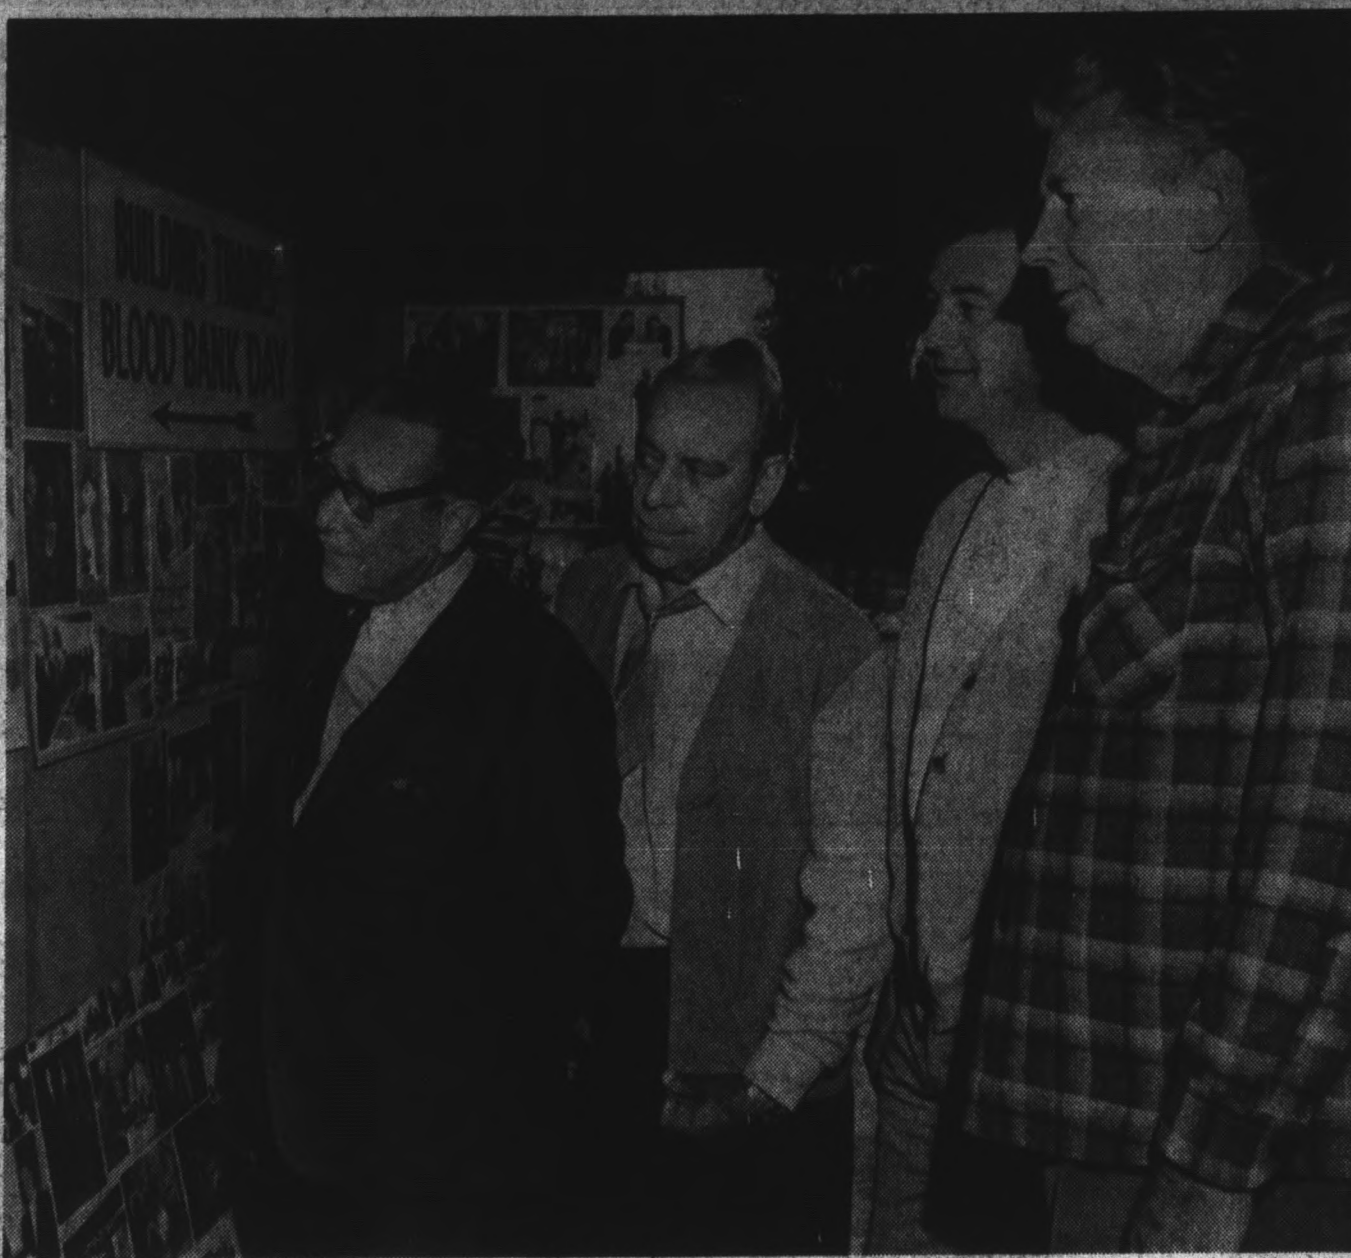

Salvador Gallagos, who resides at the address, told police the car belonged to his son-in-law, Enrique, and his daughter Maria, both 21. Neither liked to have their picture taken, he told police, so there are no pictures.

The couple went to Mexico a few days ago, he said, and he does not know when they will return.

Legal Day At Redwood

Legal Information Day will be sponsored by the Redwood City Fun After Fifty Club on Friday, December 5, at the Veterans' Building.

The program includes, Wills and Estates, by Attorney William W. Penabaz of San Mateo; Home Ownership Problems and Assessment Appeals by Attorney Benjamin B. Law of San Mateo; Consumer Problems and Frauds by Attorney Rubin Tepper, Legal Aid Society, Redwood City, and Commitment Proceedings by Deputy District Attorney James Foley. A panel discussion with audience participation on the subjects of guardianships and small claims will be held. The program will be at 10 a.m. and the public is invited.

HEART TRANSPLANT patient Robert McKee, left, of Palo Alto, who was given a new heart at Stanford Hospital a year ago, attended the Building Trades Blood Bank day Saturday at fair grounds, where

$55,000 Clinic For Obstetrics Backed

Board of supervisors yesterday was scheduled to approve plans for a new $55,000 obstetrical and gynecological clinic in the eastern end of the old building at San Mateo County General Hospital.

According to County Manager M. D. Tarshes, the new clinic, which would be located on the first floor of the hospital building where a 22-bed ward was formerly located, is needed for out patient care no matter what role the hospital may eventually play.

Tarshes reported the ward was discontinued in accordance with a plan to phase out inpatient services in the old building of the hospital.

The obstetrical and gynecological clinic now located in the central portion of the first floor of the hospital is very crowded and dysfunctional, according to Tarshes.

Plans for the new clinic call for seven separate examining rooms, consulting offices, a nurses' station, a public waiting area and a social service area.

When the new clinic is completely renovated, Tarshes said an additional area of an outpatient clinic will be remodeled and made more functional as the second phase of the plan.

Funds for the project are contained in the budget, according to Tarshes.

DRYER FIRE

Millbrae firemen rushed to 149 Garden Lane Sunday afternoon, when a fire was reported in an apartment house. Owner P. Cassidy pointed out blazing clothes dryer, and firemen put it out with a hand-carried extinguisher.

Police Center Off The Air In Blackout

The county police communications center in Redwood City was shut down for a half-hour Saturday because emergency standby equipment failed to work during a power failure.

Luckily, there were no major crimes or accidents in the county during the period the center, which handles communications for all law enforcement agencies in the county, was off the air.

William D. Goheen, chief of communications in the county department of Building Construction and General Services, said a generator that is supposed to start up automatically when the regular electric power fails did not do so because of a defective part.

"It was just one of those things," Goheen said. "That equipment is checked every week to make sure it is in good operating condition."

A sheriff's car was parked outside the building to handle some broadcasts during the black out, but its signal could only carry for a short distance, leaving most of the county uncovered.

PG&E said the blackout occurred when a 7,200-volt wire, part of a 12,000-volt circuit, fell in the parking lot of the Circle Star Theater. An estimated 2,400 customers were without electricity until power was restored. The area affected was between James and Brewster Bayshore Freeway to the foot-castles and extended from hills.

Because of the generator failure, the county Hall of Justice, which houses the sheriff's office and county jail, were also blacked out for the half-hour. Deputies said there were no problems during the period, however.

The emergency generator at Sequoia Hospital, also in the affected area, operated satisfactorily.

Thief Takes Narcotics

An undetermined amount of narcotics was taken Saturday night from the pharmacy of the Menlo Medical Center, 1111 University Avenue, which was discovered burglarized shortly after 12:30 a.m. yesterday by a Menlo Park policeman.

Officer William Mills discovered the front door of the clinic open when he made a routine check. The pharmacy and the clinic business office had been ransacked, and a total of $185 cash, along with oil company credit cards made out to the clinic taken.

An inventory was to be made today to determine the amount of missing narcotics. Entry to the clinic was made by the prying open of a window.

S.M. Center Board Meets

The agenda includes approval of the 1969-70 Center budget of $32,760; discussion of the 1970-71 program proposal and the report of Center Director Milt Shields.
